Prominent Stock Firm Suspended By New York Exchange

Richard Whitney and Co. Ruled Off; Stated Obligations Not Met
Counsel Decries Hasty Judgment

NEW YORK (AP)—The New York Stock Exchange today announced suspension of Richard Whitney and Co. from membership for failure to meet its obligations.

Richard Whitney, the senior partner of the firm, was for several years president of the exchange until nearly two years ago.

A statement by the exchange said the committee on business conduct had discovered, on March 1, 1938, evidence of conduct apparently contrary to just and equitable principles of trade.

Hearing on the charges was set for March 17.

"This morning the firm of Richard Whitney and Co. advised the exchange that it was unable to meet its obligations and suspension for insolvency was announced from the rostrum of the exchange shortly after 10 a.m.," said the official statement.

Officials declined to elaborate on the charges.

G. WHITNEY'S BROTHER
Whitney, the most prominent member of the exchange to be suspended in many years, is a brother of George Whitney, partner in the banking house of J. P. Morgan and Company.

Wall Street veterans could not remember a similar action involving a former president of the exchange. The announcement from the rostrum over the big trading floor came as a shock to the membership generally.

Trading, however, showed no notable effect.

Whitney declined immediate comment, but Sumner Ford, representing attorneys for the Whitney firm, issued a brief statement asking "those interested to reserve opinion until this firm has made its answer."

HARVARD GRADUATE
Whitney was born in Beverly, Mass., in 1888, attended Groton School and graduated from Harvard in 1912. He went directly into the financial field.

The New York State Attorney General's office announced an investigation into the firm's affairs would be commenced immediately, with a hearing some time late today.

It was understood, likewise, the Securities and Exchange Commission would hold an independent inquiry.

CREW RESCUED AFTER CRASH

Fishpacker and Tug Collide Off Coast Near Campbell River

Five members of the crew of the fishpacker Canuck were rescued this morning after their ship sank, following a collision with the tug B.C. Boy at 5.30, off the east coast of Vancouver Island.

The Canuck, of 70 tons, was fully loaded with a cargo of 50 tons of box clams at the time of the mishap.

The B.C. Boy rescued her crew, which had to jump into the water before their ship quickly sank. The men were taken to hospital at Campbell River, where they were treated for exposure and shock.

The accident occurred off Ested Island, Garland Harbor, in the Campbell River area, just at daylight.

All members of the crew were Canadians, but their names were not given in meagre dispatches received at headquarters of the Provincial Police here.

The Canuck sank in 30 fathoms of water and her salvage will be difficult. She is 75 feet in length, equipped with a 135 horsepower Diesel engine and is owned by Joe Carr and partners, 666 Pender Street East, Vancouver.

Dog That Bit Man Is Doomed
Destruction of a police dog, owned by Sam Chong, Chinese, was ordered by Magistrate Henry Hall in the City Police Court this morning.

The sentence was passed because it bit W. Rogers while he was walking along Fisgard Street, having attacked him for no apparent reason.

Chong appeared in court this morning and pleaded guilty to a charge of keeping a dog that had bitten a person, although he said he was unaware of what the dog had done.

The court ordered delivery of the dog within three days to the city poundkeeper for destruction.

M. Levine of New York Awaits Word From Peter Holding Son Peter
NEW ROCHELLE, N.Y. (AP)—Convinced he has been in contact with kidnappers of his 12-year-old son, Murray Levine waited hopefully today for instructions for the payment of $30,000 ransom.

Levine, New York City lawyer, whose son, Peter, disappeared February 24, declined to comment on conflicting reports that he had made a secret automobile trip Monday. Some persons said they had seen him leave the house with two other men; others insisted he had not ventured out.

Bridge Torn to Pieces By Flood

This bridge a short time ago was strong enough to support trains, but now it lies in fragments. Washed from its base, it collapsed into the bed of the flooded Los Angeles River. The loss is part of the total of $65,000,000 damage to public and private property which resulted from last week's floods in southern California. Other flood pictures from California are on page 3.

Moscow Court Is Told of Murders of Gorky and Others

Yagoda, Ex-police Head, Confesses Slayings; Doctors Killed Author

MOSCOW (AP)—Genrikh Yagoda, once the most dreaded man in Russia, tonight abjectly confessed the murder of his predecessor as chief of the Soviet secret police and of two other eminent Russians.

Yagoda's plea of guilty was a sudden reversal of his earlier avowal of innocence in the killing of Vyacheslav Menzhinsky in 1934. He already had admitted guilt in the deaths of Maxim Gorky, the writer, in 1936, and Valerian Kulibishev, head of the first Five-year Plan, in 1935.

One of 21 frequent probable death in Moscow's greatest blood purge trial, Yagoda was a pitiful, shrunken, grey figure in the prisoner's box, to which he had sent so many on their way to death. But another defendant testified that not long ago he aspired to become Russia's Hitler.

One point of his pre-trial confession, however, Yagoda did not confirm—his part in the death, called murder, of Maxim Pechkoff, son of Gorky. When first on the stand he recanted his confession concerning Pechkoff. Later he asked leave to discuss this murder charge in camera.

All four deaths previously had been ascribed to natural causes.

RUSSIAN HITLER
P. P. Bulanoff, one of the 21 accused, once Yagoda's secretary, testified Yagoda wanted to become a Russian Hitler. He testified Yagoda admired Adolf Hitler's rise from the ranks and through Hitler's "Mein Kampf" was "a fine book."

Asked why he had confessed he had ordered the deaths of Pechkoff and Menzhinsky if that

Ground Frost Did No Damage

There was a slight frost last night. The minimum temperature on the ground was reported to have been 31.5 degrees by the Dominion Meteorological Observatory here. Above the ground the mercury did not go below 38.5 degrees.

There was no damage to farm or garden. Most plants are not sufficiently far advanced to feel a frost and those that are in bloom were not hurt.

GUERRILLAS IN CHINA GAIN

Snow Also Checks Japanese Advance in Areas of Battles

By LLOYD LEHRER Associated Press Foreign Staff
SHANGHAI (AP)—Heavy snow throughout central China and increasingly strong guerrilla attacks on all fronts have checked the Japanese advance in its self-designated task of bringing about a pro-Japanese regime in China.

The growing intensity of the guerrilla attacks threatens to disrupt communication facilities between the far-flung lines of the Japanese army.

Daily reports from the Hangchow area tell of Japanese outposts attacked, train service disrupted and telephone and telegraph lines cut.

TOWNS RETAKEN
While guerrilla tactics constantly harried the Japanese, Chinese troops recaptured several towns in Anhwei province and Tuesday were threatening Japanese garrisons at Wuhsing and Wukang. Near Tientsin, 30 miles south of Linhaiwuan in Anhwei, a Japanese cavalry detachment was ambushed. Thirty soldiers were killed.

Guerrilla bands were most active along the Tientsin-Pukow railway. Among them were detachments attacking with red spears and stripped to the waist under the delusion they are immune to gunfire—a survival of the historic Boxer rebellion.

FUGITIVE CAR WRECKED
VANCOUVER (CP)—An automobile thief being pursued by city police in a prowler car early today wrecked the machine he was driving, but managed to escape. The driver of the stolen car failed to round a turn, and the car crashed through a fence. The driver ran between two houses and disappeared.

HAIL STORM IN CALIFORNIA

New Storm in South Also Accompanied By Lightning; House Set Afire

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Hail and lightning ushered in a new storm today as rain-plagued southern California struggled to bring order out of last week's flood chaos.

Lightning bolts set fire to a Pasadena home during the night and extinguished the lights in an Altadena residence. Damage was slight.

Heavy hail struck Redondo Beach after an electrical display illuminated the sky. Rain was reported from Santa Barbara to Newport Beach.

Estimates of damage done to private and public property by the disastrous floods of last week fluctuated around the $65,000,000 mark. The casualty list read: 69 identified dead, 17 unidentified dead, 88 persons missing.

Reeves Say 5,000 Arrived in Fraser Valley in Three Years

Figures presented by the Union of B.C. Municipalities to the provincial cabinet today showed that approximately 5,000 people have come into the Fraser Valley in the last three years from the Saskatchewan drought regions and other prairie provinces.

Reeve R. M. Grauer of Richmond submitted the report of a survey listing 1,169 heads of families with 3,859 dependents as having entered valley municipalities within the period. Of this number 394 families with 1,351 dependents were said to be on relief.

"We're getting them by the hundreds," said Reeve George Cruickshanks of Matsqui, speaking at a preliminary meeting of the union delegates.

Reeve William Crouch of Saanich said the usual plan had been to offer those who needed relief the funds for transportation back to their homes. But this did not always work. He had one case in Saanich where the head of the family was sick and could not be moved. There were seven children and relief had to be given.

HAD RESIDED HERE 85 YEARS

Alfred C. Williams, Native Son, Died Here Today

Born in Victoria 85 years ago, Alfred Charles Williams, member of a well-known pioneer family, passed away this morning at his home, 1820 Lillian Road.

Mr. Williams was believed to be one of the oldest, if not the oldest, native son in Victoria. He was born at a time when Victoria was a fort, surrounded by heavy bush, and during his long life watched its gradual progress to its present size. For many years Mr. Williams was connected with the old Baker brickyard.

He is survived by two daughters, Mrs. W. Reid and Mrs. W. J. Henry, of Victoria, and one son, A. R. Williams, Vancouver; three sisters and one brother, Mrs. J. Moore and Mrs. J. Morley of this city, and Mrs. Joe Richards and Thomas Williams, Merritt.

The remains are reposing at Hayward's B.C. Funeral Chapel, where Rev. A. de B. Owen will conduct funeral services at 3.30 Thursday afternoon, after which the remains will be laid at rest in Ross Bay Cemetery.

Further Relief Cut Is Hinted

A hint that young married men with only a wife to support may be cut off relief as the government's next step in reducing the relief rolls has been given, according to Victoria delegates attending the special Union of B.C. Municipalities meeting at the Legislative Buildings today.

Alderman W. Lloyd Morgan said it had been intimated to Victoria that on April 1 the government might pass on "another load" to the cities.

Alderman S. H. Okell said the relief department had indicated that single men would again be off relief this summer and it was possible a married man without dependents other than his wife might also be refused aid.

No Telegrams In House Debate

Chamberlain Does Not Answer in Commons On Messages to Dominions

LONDON (CP)—Prime Minister Chamberlain made no reply in the House of Commons today when Rt. Hon. A. V. Alexander, Labor, asked whether he would supply members with copies of telegrams to, and the replies received from, the Dominions in connection with the changes in British foreign policy.

Geoffrey Mander, Liberal, previously had raised the question, asking Rt. Hon. Malcolm MacDonald, Dominions Secretary, whether "in view of the fact that fundamental differences have been disclosed and that the Prime Minister has abandoned collective security, the Dominions are satisfied with this radical departure in foreign policy."

"I think it will be seen from newspaper reports that some of the Dominion Prime Ministers have said that they would not agree that there has been any fundamental departure in foreign policy," Mr. MacDonald replied.

Prime Minister Chamberlain referred questioners to his statements of yesterday to the effect that the Dominions had been fully informed.

A Labor member demanded whether the "action of the government is in accordance with the consultations that took place at the Imperial Conference last summer?"

"Yes," replied Mr. Chamberlain.

Higher Freight Rates in U.S.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States interstate commerce commission granted American railroads today a 10 per cent increase in freight rates, but exempted several major commodities.

The commission, which recently held hearings, found existing rates to be "inadequate."

Seek Government Aid For Indigents

Cabinet Promises to Study Burden on Cities After Hearing Argument

Municipal leaders of British Columbia today asked the government to contribute toward the cost of caring for unemployable persons, claiming they could not stand the burden.

The government promised to give full consideration to their request when the relief bills have been completely segregated in April and the extent of the cost is known.

Hon. George S. Pearson, Minister of Labor, expressed the opinion that the burden might not be as heavy as the municipalities now feared.

A Union of B.C. Municipalities delegation spent an hour with the cabinet on the issue, which arose when the provincial government, under pressure from Ottawa, recently ordered that unemployable persons be cut off relief. This threw such people back onto municipal councils for their care.

ROME (AP)—Anglo-Italian conversations which may hold the key to war or peace in Europe began today.

The Earl of Perth, British ambassador, entered the Chigi Palace late this afternoon to open with Foreign Minister Galeazzo Ciano the talks which even before they began caused a political crisis in Great Britain and resignation of Anthony Eden as Foreign Secretary.

Lord Perth returned only Sunday from London, where he received instructions from the Chamberlain government.

FRENCH OPINION

PARIS (CP-Havas)—Prime Minister Chamberlain's House of Commons speech Monday in defence of Britain's vast rearmament program and his government's foreign policy received complete approval in Paris today.

French leaders of all shades of political opinion viewed the British leader's remarks as a clear-cut picture of Britain's aims which will strengthen London's position at the opening of the Anglo-Italian talks at Rome.

The Prime Minister's vigorous stand in defence of democracy was a welcome surprise. It lent additional strength to the impression France not only will be kept informed on the Rome talks, but also that its point of view will be defended by the British negotiators.

By GEORGE HAMBLETON Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON—Britain is moving on a double front for peace.

Late today in Rome, following Prime Minister Chamberlain's firm declaration that Great Britain's "terrifying power" in armaments is not to be used for aggression, the Earl of Perth, British ambassador to Italy, met Count Galeazzo Ciano, Italian Foreign Minister, in the first of the Anglo-Italian talks.

At the Foreign Office here Tuesday Viscount Halifax, Foreign Secretary, will receive Joachim von Ribbentrop, German Foreign Minister, in what is hoped to be the first of a series of Anglo-German conversations. The Dominions, it is intimated, will be kept informed in accordance with the usual procedure.

The contacts so far arranged are preliminary to negotiations (Turn to Page 2, Col. 6)

Mayor Firm On Relief Issue

Says City Will Turn Administration Over to Government If Rules Enforced

While City Council delegates joined representatives of the Union of British Columbia Municipalities in a protest to the Cabinet today over application of new relief regulations in the province, Mayor Andrew McGavin gave his personal view of the problem created by the revised plans for administering relief.

"As soon as the government puts us on the spot, we'll put them on the spot," the mayor said. "In other words, as soon as they put into force the relief changes they have announced, the city of Victoria will have to put the whole relief issue back on the government. The city will not carry an extra burden of $50,000 or $60,000 a year."

"I'm speaking for myself, of course," the mayor added.

Charge Based On Operation

VANCOUVER (CP) — Mrs. Alice Randolph, 51, was held by city police today on a charge of performing an illegal operation. The arrest Monday afternoon followed investigation by city detectives into the case of a woman admitted to a Kitsilano nursing home in serious condition some days ago. The patient is reported "recovering."

THIEF IS JARRED

VANCOUVER (CP) — A jar of marmalade was too much for a youthful thief who tried to snatch Mrs. B. Holden's purse. As the youth crept up behind her and seized the bag, Mrs. Holden swung the marmalade bottle she was carrying in one hand. The jar hit the side of the thief's head. He ran—dropping the purse in his hurry.

SPY HUNT IN U.S. GROWING WIDER

G-men Reported to Have Unearthed Number of New Clues

WASHINGTON (AP)—United States Justice Department agents assigned to espionage cases worked today in strictest secrecy, by order of Attorney-General Cummings. His instructions, which included a ban on any publicity without his personal approval, were given as reports spread that the Federal Bureau of Investigation had uncovered new clues on the operations of a "spy ring."

An informed official indicated several persons were being questioned in various parts of the country. The Justice Department continued to its safe all confidential reports prepared by the State Department. Ordinarily, these reports are kept in clerk files.

PRINCE RUPERT DEATH

PRINCE RUPERT, B.C. (CP)—John Crawford, 20, stepson of A. J. Cook of Vancouver, died in a hospital here today, the victim of a rare disease which causes white corpuscles to disappear from the blood stream. The body will be taken to Calgary for burial.

quite ready to accept the principle that unemployables should not draw unemployment relief, the government must participate in the cost of caring for the indigents because the cities simply could not handle it alone.

The municipal brief was approved at a preliminary meeting in the Cedar committee room with Reeve R. C. McDonald, Coquitlam, presiding. Reeve J. B. Leyland was appointed to present the argument to the cabinet.

Victoria and the surrounding districts were fully represented on the delegation, with Aldermen James Adam, Burges Gadsden, W. Lloyd Morgan and S. H. Okell, with Relief Officer E. G. Snowden from the city; Reeve R. R. Taylor, Oak Bay; Reeve Alex Crookley, Esquimalt; and Reeve Lockley and Municipal Clerk R. R. F. Sewell, Saanich.

For several reasons, the brief said, the burden of caring for the poor and destitute, that is unemployables, was heavier than it used to be before the depression. Where it was once a "nominal" burden, eight years of relief had changed the picture entirely. British Columbia, particularly, had attracted thousands of transients by its climate, and many of them had drawn relief all the time they were establishing residence.

Many people had reached old age during the depression without any chance of making normal provision for it. Modern industry demands young, physically fit workers, and those with small handicaps could not get jobs even though they could do certain kinds of work.

ECONOMIC WAR CASUALTIES

"Many of these persons who are now termed unemployable," said the brief, "are casualties of an economic war which has taken a toll as definite as any military campaign, and their care is equally a national problem as the maintenance of 'burnt-out' veterans of the Great War," the brief said.

The delegation told the cabinet it was prepared to back up any representations the province would make to Ottawa on the subject. They pointed out that in old age pensions, pensions for the destitute, blind and allowances for "burnt-out" veterans, the Dominion had accepted responsibility in social matters.

"If they will pay for these things, why should they not recognize heart disease or arthritis cases," said Relief Officer Rupert Bone of Vancouver

MacBrien Last Rites Today

Military Honors at Funeral of Late R.C.M.P. Chief in Ottawa

OTTAWA (CP) — Ottawa paused today to pay tribute to the late Major-General Sir James MacBrien, for many years one of the most outstanding citizens of the capital. Commissioner of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police, a soldier for nearly 40 years, veteran of two wars in both of which he had served with distinction, and one who had risen from the rank of trooper to be Canada's first chief of the general staff, Sir James died in a Toronto hospital last Saturday.

Today, following a service in Christ Church Cathedral, the body was borne to Beechwood Cemetery, through mourning lanes of Ottawa's citizens. Most prominent among those who grieved the death of General MacBrien were the old soldiers, with whom the bonds of comradeship had strengthened with the passing years.

Arrangements for the funeral had been made by the National Defence Department and its character was wholly military, with the R.C.M.P. performing a prominent function. The pallbearers were representatives of all branches of the service. They were Maj.-Gen. C. F. Constantine, Adjutant-General; Maj.-Gen. H. A. Panet; Maj.-Gen. A. G. L. McNaughton, former chief of the General Staff; Commodore Percy W. Nelles, chief of the naval staff; Air Commodore G. M. Croft, senior air officer; Deputy Commissioner S. T. Wood and Superintendent V. A. M. Kemp of the R.C.M.P., and Brig.-Gen. Edouard de B. Panet.

At the graveside three volleys were fired over the casket and as it was lowered into the ground the notes of "The Last Post" rang out. A brief silence ensued, then the trumpets sounded "Reveille"—the "dawn of a new day."

Parkers Are Held For Trial

Pair and Three Others Indicted in New York For Kidnapping Wendel

NEW YORK (AP)—A federal grand jury here today indicted Ellis H. Parker Sr., Burlington County, N.J., chief of detectives, his son, Ellis Jr., and three others as kidnapers under the Lindbergh law.

The indictment concerned the alleged kidnapping of Paul H. Wendel, former Trenton resident, from New York to the Parkers' home in Mt. Holly, N.J., February 24, 1936.

At that time, the Parkers issued a "confession" signed by Wendel that he had kidnapped Charles A. Lindbergh Jr., the crime for which Bruno Richard Hauptmann was then under sentence of death.

The faked confession allegedly obtained by torture delayed the execution of Hauptmann three days.

USED AS PAWNS

The three indicted with the Parkers are Murray Bleefeld, Harry Weiss and Martin Schlossman, all of New York. They have been characterized by state and federal prosecutors in previous legal actions as the tools of the Parkers.

Victoria Hindu's Appeal Heard

VANCOUVER (CP) — Banta Singh, 45-year-old Hindu mill worker from Victoria, is appealing to the British Columbia court of Appeal from a judgment of Mr. Justice H. B. Robertson refusing his application for discharge from the custody of immigration authorities.

The Hindu claims to have arrived in Victoria in October 1913, and to have been a resident of the Dominion since that time. He was examined by immigration officers in Victoria last year on a complaint that he had entered the country illegally and alleges that although a board of inquiry supported his contention that he was lawfully landed in Canada he was arrested last October and held in custody in Victoria since then.

Mr. Justice Robertson's decision refusing his application for discharge was handed down November 26, 1937.

VON CRAMM IN JAIL HOSPITAL

Tennis Player in State of Collapse in Germany; Others Arrested

BERLIN (AP)—Baron Gottfried von Cramm, Germany's great tennis player, today was reported confined in a jail infirmary as the result of a nervous collapse following his arrest on a morals charge. Authorities withheld details of the case, but the ministry of propaganda promised to issue shortly a statement "going into the whole affair."

Von Cramm, world's No. 2 tennis amateur, was arrested shortly after his return last week from a tennis tour of Australia.

Meanwhile rumors not confirmed, circulated in Berlin that a number of other aristocrats had been arrested on similar charges.

which it is hoped will lead to a general European settlement.

ARMED BUDGET VOTED

Yesterday Prime Minister Chamberlain told a tense House of Commons: "Neither past memories nor present misrepresentation will deter me from doing what I can to restore confidence and tranquillity of mind in Europe."

The House approved the government's tremendous rearmament plans by a vote of 347 to 133, after it had rejected 351 to 134 a Labor amendment which declared the armaments were "further the dangerous and unsound policy undertaken by the government."

In telling the House that if negotiations should fail, "we shall not hesitate to revise our (rearmament) program or rate of acceleration," Mr. Chamberlain declared the £1,500,000,000 originally planned for the five-year rearmament plan would not be sufficient, but did not estimate what the new total figure would be.

AIR COMPARISON

Mr. Chamberlain's declaration of Britain's determination to be secure regardless of cost, and the assertion by Rt. Hon. Winston Churchill, Conservative, that the German air force is double Britain's strength, provided a sombre tone to the debate on what Rt. Hon. Clement Attlee, Labor leader, termed "the gloomiest document" he had ever seen—the government's white paper on defence.

Moscow Court Is Told Of Murders Of Gorky And Others

were untrue, Yagoda, whose once sleek, round cheeks were shrunken hollow and whose face was ashen-grey, would only reply: "Allow me please not to answer that question."

Testimony in today's session—the sixth—of the trial traced a fantastic story of murder in which some of Russia's leading physicians became the villains and science provided the instruments.

DOCTOR BRIBED

Dr. L. G. Levin, distinguished in appearance, with white hair, goatee and pince-nez, who until a few months ago was head of the Kremlin Hospital, led up to Yagoda's retraction. One of the 21 accused, Dr. Levin testified Yagoda had bribed him with foreign wines and luxuries to kill Gorky.

He and his colleague, Dr. I. N. Kazakoff, head of a clinic, also a defendant, swore they helped kill Pechkoff and Menzhinsky under Yagoda's threats against their own lives.

"Yagoda expressed dissatisfaction with Pechkoff's ways," Dr. Levin related, "said he was doing nothing, had no job, was given to alcoholic excesses."

MURDER ORDER

Finally, said Levin, Yagoda told him "Pechkoff must be done away with."

"Murdered?" asked Prosecutor Andrei Vishinsky.

"Yes," the physician answered. The doctor further quoted Yagoda as telling him: "You must help us. If you try anything my word is better than yours. Not to do it means the end of you."

"I was not a party man," Dr. Levin explained, "and I thought Yagoda was almighty. I had an inner struggle, but said nothing to anyone and finally decided to obey."

Death Of Gorky

Dr. Levin confessed murdering Gorky, his family friend, by deliberate mistreatment. He calmly told the court of first meeting Yagoda in 1920 when he treated Felix Dzerzhinsky, first chief of the Cheka, as the secret police organization was then known.

He then related how Gorky had suffered from tuberculosis from his youth, causing him to live in Italy, both before and after the Bolshevik revolution, until 1928.

The physician testified he had selected the Soviet doctors who took turns staying with the author at his retreat on the Bay of Naples in Italy.

"Yagoda became very friendly with me," he related, "I was flattered. He would send me French wine, fine flowers, presented me with a dacha (country home)."

While Dr. Levin gave his narrative, his two distinguished colleagues in the prisoners' box, Dr. D. D. Pletnyeff, famous heart specialist, and Dr. I. N. Kazakoff, head of a large clinic, listened attentively.

Also paying close attention was a board of medical experts sitting at a table facing him. The board was appointed by the court to make findings on the methods of treatment allegedly designed to murder.

SUSPICIOUS MEDICINE

The alleged murder of Gorky was brought into the trial testimony for the first time when a Dr. Bielskotsky, Kremlin physician who attended him, said his suspicions were aroused by the medicines prescribed by Dr. Levin.

Ten days before the death, he said, Pletnyeff urged: "Let's give the sick man something to ease him out."

Prosecutor Andrei Vishinsky yesterday disclosed Gorky's alleged murder would be attributed to long walks after dinner, combined with medicines administered to him for his heart.

Vishinsky declared Yagoda and P. P. Bullanoff, another defendant, tried to kill Yezhov, but that the plot was discovered before sufficient poison had been administered.

"I loved Gorky and his family," Dr. Levin said to the court. "I thought him one of the greatest people. That is why Yagoda lies when he says that I did what I did without orders."

"I am not afraid of death. I am 68. But he (Yagoda) threatened to annihilate my family."

He told of making Gorky and

Old Kentucky Cigarettes

his son catch colds, which developed into double pneumonia and then deliberately giving wrong treatment. Of Gorky he said:

"He was a completely ill man, but his lungs were the worst. Kruchoff asked me what was bad for Gorky. I told him long walks, physical exercise, failure to rest after dinner."

"So he was allowed to walk miles—a thing he loved to do—to work in his garden. He also loved fire and flames, so fires were made in the open at night and he was allowed to stand facing the warmth, having a cold wind blowing across his back."

"Kruchoff brought him up from the Crimea when his grandchildren were down with grip. Gorky caught it in two days. It developed into double pneumonia. We used large doses of medicines which normally should be used in small doses and less frequently."

These medicines, he explained, were heart stimulants, which would not have been harmful to other patients.

GROWING DEAF WITH HEAD NOISES? TRY THIS

If you are growing hard-of-hearing and feel Catarrhal Deafness, or if you have roaring, rumbling, hissing noises in your ears, go to your druggist and get 1 ounce of Perminol double strength, and add to it 1/2 pint of hot water and a little granulated sugar. Take 1 tablespoonful four times a day.

This will often bring quick relief from the distressing head noises. Clogged nostrils should be open, breathing become easy and the mucus stop dropping into the throat. It is easy to prepare, costs little and is pleasant to take. Anyone who is threatened with Catarrhal Deafness or who has head noises should give this prescription a trial.

Forest Yield Placed At 3,587,000,000

Some Regions Cannot Maintain Present Cutting, New Survey Shows

With 254,000,000 board feet of merchantable timber standing, British Columbia's forests have available for the logger a sustained yield of 3,587,000,000 board feet annually, according to a new survey of the province's forest resources compiled by F. D. Mulholland, chief of the forest surveys.

Hon. A. Wells Gray, Minister of Lands, made the survey data public here today. It is the product of 10 years' intermittent work by the survey branch, and forms the basis on which new government policies of conservation and permanent yield are founded.

In a foreword Mr. Gray dealt with the question of logging control and government forest policy. "When," he said, "vast virgin forests are being put to the use of man improvements in silviculture must come as a gradual process, and there is no occasion for alarm in the fact that the utilization methods suitable for such forests differ from those employed in second-growth forests of countries whose virgin stands have gone.

"It will be seen that there are still standing over 254,000,000 board feet of merchantable timber, of which nearly 110,000,000,000 board feet are said to be accessible at present prices. It is estimated that for the whole province a total annual volume of 3,587,000,000 board feet is available for the logger on a sustained yield basis, after allowing for the average loss by fire and epidemic.

"The average annual cut during the last 10 years has been 2,541,000,000 board feet. Immediate expansion of utilization to the larger figure is not recommended, because the maintenance of such a volume of production would depend upon the development of logging methods to reach many stands which can not be logged profitably at present, and upon complete and prompt reforestation of all lands logged off in the future. These objects involve problems of which the government is fully cognizant, and towards the solution of which trained and experienced foresters and logging engineers have been working for years.

"On the other hand, the author states that in the above estimate of sustained yield capacity he has taken no account of the increased yield which might be obtained by closer utilization in forest and mill, by development of markets for smaller and more quickly grown trees, by improved silvicultural methods of cutting, and by other means. Active steps are being taken to realize such additional yields through co-operation between government and industry.

"This survey of the province's forest resources shows that it would be unreasonable to attempt to restrict utilization to the capacity of the forests for sustained yield of large old-growth timber when a quality of wood which is already being used in other countries can be grown so much more quickly.

"At the same time the author clearly indicates the urgent need of reduction in the great annual loss of increment which is being suffered through forest fires in the interior and through the partial failure of natural regeneration after logging on the coast. He also points out that certain regions cannot permanently maintain the present heavy cutting, nor continue indefinitely to supply on the present scale the industries located in them."

Mr. Mulholland, in his survey, says it is of vital importance that the forests and forest industries, providing employment directly for 30,000 men, be organized on a permanent basis.

It is not essential, he says, that 300-year-old trees, like the virgin crop of the present be grown, but he thinks that fairly mature trees are the best thing to bank on for some years to come.

"Management for a sustained yield is essential for the permanent prosperity of British Columbia's greatest industry and it demands immediate attention. If it is not introduced before the present large forest revenues have disappeared, it is doubtful if capital will be available for the extensive rebuilding of denuded forests which will then be necessary," Mr. Mulholland says.

He explains that because B.C. timber must compete in European markets thousands of miles away, the practice of intensive silviculture will probably be impossible for several decades and it will be necessary to obtain successful reforestation at minimum cost and to be content with broad and general plans for reforestation.

Declaring that the present is the time to begin steps of this kind, he says:

"In British Columbia it has been evident for some time that the forests with protection only will not continue indefinitely to support the great industries already established, to say nothing of the increase production which is now being actively planned. It is time to institute active measures providing for more successful reforestation. It is also time to prepare for some regulation of the cut so that the great store of virgin timber on the accessible areas may not all be used up before sufficient second growth is ready to take its place."

Mr. Mulholland points out that due to the long-term nature of investment in forestry and also to the effect of "wild" timber in keeping market values low, private owners have seldom succeeded in managing forests under a consistent policy for long periods of time.

Film Stars Caught in Disastrous California Floods

Beautiful Madeleine Carroll, who takes adventurous roles in films, encountered a real-life adventure when the flood trapped her for three days in her Malibu Beach home. At length she donned a pair of hip boots and struggled four miles across the muddied and water-torn dunes until she ran into a studio rescue party.

By the time the flood had subsided, Bob Burns, radio and screen comedian, found that his home in Bel Air and water were pretty well mixed. He is seen in the photo above, sloshing around one of the rooms, mooring floating furniture against the wall, and undoubtedly keeping a wary eye out for his raucous trademark, the beloved bazooka.

Rowell Board Costs Reported

OTTAWA (CP)—Cost of the Royal Commission on Dominion-Provincial Relations up to February 4 was $74,141.82, Hon. Fernand Rinfret, Secretary of State, said in a return tabled in the House of Commons Monday in reply to a question from Alex Edwards, Conservative, South Waterloo, Ont.

Hon. N. W. Rowell, chairman, received $25 a day living allowance plus transportation. Commissioners Robert A. Mackay, Henry F. Angus and Joseph Siris received $25 a day and living and traveling expenses when engaged on the commission's work.

Commissioner John W. Daffoe receives only actual expenses. "Mr. Daffoe does not wish to accept any compensation," said the return.

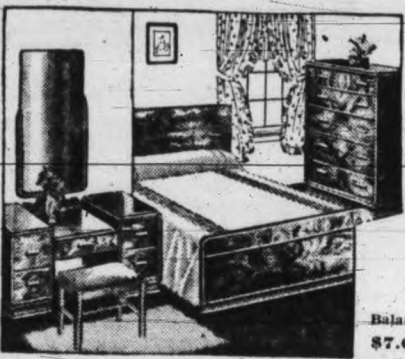

The commission counsel, James Stewart and Louis St. Laurent, receive $150 a day and traveling expenses.

The commission has had 60 employees, seven of whom have resigned. Total cost of secretaries, economic advisers, clerical, stenographic and other assistants to February 4 was $46,565.19.

The commission had sat 29 days and spent three days and seven nights traveling.

Majority Oppose State Medicine

Commons Stages Debate On Rev. D. McIvor's Resolution

OTTAWA (CP)—The majority of speakers who debated state medicine in the House of Commons most of Monday were opposed to it. When the sitting finished Rev. Daniel McIvor, Liberal, Fort William, Ont., sponsor of the resolution favoring state medicine, wished to withdraw it, but failed to obtain unanimous consent.

Hon. C. G. Power, Minister of Health, said he did not think the provinces would agree to a constitutional amendment enabling the Dominion to establish a system of health insurance and was convinced the Canadian people would not stand for state medicine.

In this he took an opposite view to that of J. S. Woodsworth, C.C.F. leader, who said the great majority of the people wanted state medicine and the government was simply using constitutional and financial excuses to evade the issue.

Although the debate was on a state medicine resolution it ranged over a wide field and much of it was concerned with health insurance and public health.

Mr. Power said state medicine in the strict sense meant a system whereby all medical men were employed and paid by the state on a salary basis and all citizens received free medical services.

The only country in the world which had adopted state medicine was Russia, and while he was convinced a great improvement in medical care and public health had taken place in Russia he did not think the Canadian people were ready to follow the precedent established there.

Wherever doctors were employed by the state to provide free service there were constant complaints from the persons receiving treatment. This was the case in the army during the Great War and since the war in the care of war pensioners.

NEED DECLARED GREAT

Mr. McIvor said there was an urgent need for socialization of medical services. The present system had many shortcomings. Prevention was not keeping up to medical science. There was a maladjustment between medical science and public need.

Under the present system, medical equipment was often inaccessible.

The average Canadian head of a family was paid $986 a year. With a resulting low family budget, doctors were called only at fore sufficient second growth is ready to take its place."

Mr. Mulholland points out that due to the long-term nature of investment in forestry and also to the effect of "wild" timber in keeping market values low, private owners have seldom succeeded in managing forests under a consistent policy for long periods of time.

the last minute because the cost of medical services was too high.

Indicating medical services were beyond the income of the average family, he said 25 per cent of Canadian women went through childbirth unattended.

"It costs more not to have state medicine than to have it," Mr. McIvor concluded.

The state medicine resolution was supported by Dr. J. P. Howden, Liberal, St. Boniface, Man.; Mr. Woodsworth and Joseph Needham, Social Credit, the Battledores, Sask.

Opposing it were Mr. Power, Dr. H. R. Fleming, Liberal, Humboldt, Sask.; Dr. J. K. Blair, Liberal, Wellington North, Ont.; Dr. Pierre Gauthier, Liberal, Portneuf, Que.; J. A. Marshall, Social Credit, Camrose, Alta.; Dr. J. J. McCann, Liberal, Renfrew South, Ont., and Dr. C. J. Veniot, Liberal, Gloucester, N.B.

More Prevention Of Disease Urged

Better Than Trying to Cure Outbreaks, Says Hon. G. M. Weir

VANCOUVER (CP)—Hon. G. M. Weir, Provincial Secretary, thinks it is better economics to prevent disease than try to cure it.

In an address at a party rally here Monday night, Dr. Weir said British Columbia's present annual expenditure of $3,500,000 for social services was directed mainly toward prevention—drying up sources of infection that caused tuberculosis and other deadly diseases.

"To spend more money on prevention and less on cure is surely sound economics," he said.

He urged an increased program of adult education, a federal guidance and employment bureau and abolition of high school examinations for all grades.

Fourteen Facing Trial After Raid

PRINCETON, B.C. (CP)—Fourteen men faced gambling charges today as a result of a week-end police raid on premises of the Hellenic Colonization Association.

Sutro Pappas, formerly of Vancouver and organizer of the Hellenic group, was charged as operator of a gaming house after the raid Saturday night. Thirteen others were charged as inmates of a gaming house and were held in jail with Pappas until bail was arranged yesterday.

William White, owner of the building housing the Hellenic Association, also was arrested following the raid.

Appearing in police court yesterday, the men were remanded for eight days. Pappas was allowed bail of $500, while bail for the others was set at $100.

The Hellenic Colonization Association was organized here recently by Mr. Pappas under a provincial charter.

Dick Jones Earns

$150 a Month..

But He's Worth $36,000 to His Family

TODAY, throughout Canada, there is a growing realization of the "financial value" of thrifty men to their families and to the nation as a whole.

Consider Dick Jones, for example. He earns $150 a month or $1,800 a year. To replace this income, it would require $36,000 safely invested at 5%.

Dick Jones is typical of tens of thousands of Canadian men, who, out of limited incomes, could not save enough money to replace their earning power, but have been able to do so through Life Insurance. In Canada over Six and a Half Billion Dollars have been provided for this purpose—a great bulwark of financial protection against the future.

These men are the backbone of the nation. Individually, they provide financial protection for themselves and their dependants. Collectively, they are banded together in a great co-operative enterprise whose joint savings, when invested, promote national development and stimulate employment throughout the Dominion.

What a World!

PRIME MINISTER NEVILLE CHAMBERLAIN told the British House of Commons last night that Great Britain must spend for armaments "until it hurts." He also said that "war is the only alternative," and declared that "economic staying power is the key to winning a war." Then:

"Wars are won not only by men of arms. It is necessary also to have reserves, resources and credit. . . . Economic staying power is a powerful deterrent against attack."

"Unless a nation knocks out an opponent by a sudden blow—and recent experience has not been encouraging—the strongest people might hesitate to risk war with a country whose staying power might indefinitely prolong its resistance."

Mr. Chamberlain listed four objectives of British policy as follows: 1. The protection of the country. 2. Protection of trade routes. 3. Protection of British territories overseas from attack by sea, land, or air. 4. Co-operation in the defence of the territories of Britain's allies.

In view of what is happening in various parts of the world there seems to be no alternative for Great Britain but to keep up in the armament race—or try to pass all the rest with a good margin to spare. But his speech is a sad commentary on a universal condition; for, think of it what we will, it is a generous concession to the time-worn fallacy that to insure peace is to prepare for war.

Now Facing Realities

AN AUTHORITY IN CLOSE TOUCH with the Conservative party's mechanism at Ottawa tells us that the chief result of the gathering last Friday and Saturday—apart, of course, from the resignation of the leadership of Mr. Bennett—was the decision to call another convention as soon as convenient to frame a new national policy. It will take the form of a family gathering, with the full exchange of views obtaining in every constituency, while it will have a blanket instruction to do whatever may be deemed advisable in the best interests of the party. This one reservation was set out specifically for immediate action:

"In view of the urgency of the situation and having regard to the notable constructive achievements of the Conservative party under the able leadership of the Rt. Hon. R. B. Bennett, it is urged that the leader of our party and his associates in Parliament use every effort to retain for our producers the full benefits and advantages of the Empire Agreements."

The tone of the foregoing differs considerably from that employed by Mr. Bennett and other Conservative speakers in last November's by-election in this city. During that campaign the electors were told in unequivocal terms that the Mackenzie King government had practically sold out Canada to the United States in order to remove some of the obstacles with which that country might be confronted in her negotiations with Great Britain for a new trade agreement. Neither the leader of the Conservative party—who responded to the SOS call from the local organization—nor its platform adherents paid the slightest attention to the facts of the situation, described in the above reservation as urgent.

The moving spirits of Canadian Conservatism obviously have found it essential in the attempt to rejuvenate their party to face realities. The Mackenzie King government is just as determined to try to retain all or most of the benefits which have accrued to Canada by the operation of the Canadian-United Kingdom trade treaty as any Conservative in this country. But that administration has never lost sight of the all-important fact that Britain extended the concessions, that it is for her to consult her own interests in the negotiations now proceeding, and for her to decide how much or how little of the advantage she will permit this Dominion to retain as she proceeds to weigh the opportunities which await her exporters in a market of 130,000,000 people.

We have been told repeatedly there is a great danger threatening our lumbering and our fruit-growing industries if the preference they enjoy in the United Kingdom shall be reduced or interfered with at all. The British Government has been made familiar with all the circumstances of this aspect of the 1932 trade pact. But Canada cannot tell Britain what she can or cannot do in the matter—any more than she can direct Canada's course in this or any other circumstance. Thus there will be no quarrel with the wording or intent of the reservation in the Conservative party's policy plan.

Fighting Fire Losses

ARSON LOSSES HAVE NOW BEEN REDUCED to a fraction of their totals of years ago. The reason is that the war on deliberate destruction of property by fire-setting has resulted in the production of instruments which point out the incendiary like a screaming siren.

For instance, a warehouse fire in one city supposedly burned $500,000 worth of silver fox pelts. But a photomicrographed bit of ash revealed that the skins were not silver fox, but rabbit, and this revelation brought a confession. The spectroscopic, used originally by astronomers, has been turned to use by the arson fighters. Rubbish from a burned building can be spectrographed to determine every possible chemical element in the blaze. An incendiary using flashlight powder was caught that way, when ordinary chemical analysis did not reveal it.

Where this work affects the ordinary citizen lies not so much in the fact that fires are prevented and criminals caught, but in the fact his fire insurance rate is thereby considerably lower.

Threat From Goering

CZECHOSLOVAKIA IS DISTURBED over the speech Hermann Goering delivered on the German air force's third anniversary. In content it was more or less a repetition of an article a few days earlier in Goering's National Zeitung of Essen. The writer, referring to the Hitler-Schuschnigg conversations in Berchtesgaden, concluded that the "solution for the differences between these two countries found a few days ago must also be found for Czechoslovakia and the Reich."

"But," the article continued, "the reserve we exercised toward Vienna would not be justified toward a nation which has shown so little consideration and understanding for our wishes. The more vigorously we proceed the faster we will reach the right kind of understanding. . . . Czechoslovakia must not only give a considerable measure of autonomy to all the Sudeten Germans, it must also accept Hitler's Nazi Party as the representative organization of all Sudeten Germans."

Prague replied to this semi-official version of Germany's demands by reorganizing the government and by giving cabinet representation to all political parties with the exception of the Sudeten Germans and the Communists. Goering's harangue was the answer. France assured Prague of her help in an emergency through her Foreign Minister Delbos and by the indorsement of his speech by the almost unanimous vote of the Chamber of Deputies. But she may be forced to give a more concrete demonstration of her goodwill in the not distant future.

Mr. Bennett's Weakness

MR. W. R. GIVENS, A STALWART Conservative and former owner and editor of the Kingston Standard, has written an article on the Conservative party and Mr. Bennett. He compares Mr. Bennett with Mr. Edward Blake:

"Like Mr. Bennett a formidable figure intellectually, Mr. Blake never succeeded any more than Mr. Bennett in getting close to the common people. . . . Certainly neither was in close touch with public opinion."

The Winnipeg Free Press, which quotes the article, adds: "The Conservative Party—perhaps an indication of its violent intellectual ferment—has had repeated grief with its leaders (just as its leaders have had repeated grief with the party) ever since the iron grasp of Sir John A. Macdonald was relaxed by death. Sir Mackenzie Bowell was shoved out. Two attempts were made to get rid of Sir Robert Borden. Mr. Arthur Meighen was shoved out, and here we have Mr. Givens, among others, demanding a New Deal (though not the New Deal of January, 1935)."

Notes

Turkish divorce rate increases with the abolition of polygamy. Sympathetic parents probably have to listen to many Old Wives' Tales.

That wife who sued her husband for separation maintenance on their 50th wedding anniversary evidently looked on it as a golden occasion.

British cabinet crisis comes to a head in Scotland, where a hat named "Anthony Eden" was marked down after the foreign secretary's resignation.

A woman asked at one library for a copy of "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs." Still, she could hardly be accused of having a Grimm outlook on life.

VICTORY IN QUEBEC

From Regina Leader-Post
Eastern newspapers bring the information that Georges Heon, who won the Argenteuil by-election a few days ago, had the backing of the Union Nationale party of Premier Duplessis of Quebec. In the by-election in the seat of the late Sir G. Perley the Conservative candidate established a lead of around 1,900 over Legault, official Liberal, a new record for the seat.

Heon was not only backed by the Duplessis forces but announced after election he owed his victory to the help of the Union Nationale and to the stand of Premier Duplessis on provincial "rights." This stand is that Ottawa must not be allowed to interfere with the affairs of Quebec. On this score the Argenteuil result means Quebec does not want any interference from Ottawa in its "padlock" law and in other matters. In reality the result is a slap in the face for Mr. Lapointe, Minister of Justice at Ottawa, who has been sympathetic toward a more liberal attitude on the part of Quebec.

The inference also may be drawn that by linking with Duplessis in the next Dominion election the federal Conservatives may be able to win quite a block of seats in Quebec.
The Montreal Star says that "Heon's win may be as much a victory for Duplessis as for the federal Conservative leader," while Heon issued a statement after his election saying "the election is a vindication of Mr. Duplessis' policies, particularly provincial autonomy."

BUS CONVERSATION

IN THE BUS TODAY I was listening to a couple of gentlemen from Sidney discussing the world situation. The first gentleman, who has a herd of cows near Sidney, said he didn't think much of that guy Chamberlain. The second gentleman, who sells cordwood, said he didn't think much of that guy Eden.

The first gentleman said he supposed Chamberlain was all right but he had never liked him because, after all, he was the son of Joe Chamberlain, and he had never liked Joe Chamberlain. He had never liked the whole family, for that matter, but this fellow Eden, he seemed all right. Eden was a clever kid.

The second gentleman (the one who sells cordwood) said he didn't agree with this verdict at all. He said he thought Chamberlain was a pretty good fellow; stupid, maybe, but a good fellow, but this young squirt Eden, he was just a schoolboy monkeying around with the League of Nations and making trouble for everybody. It was this young squirt Eden, as a matter of fact, he said, who had upset the whole apple cart and practically started another war. Just a young squirt, that's all.

This conversation about the good fellow, Mr. Chamberlain, and the young squirt, Mr. Eden, was still going on when I left the bus. I suppose the same kind of conversation is going on in every bus from here to the Gulf of St. Lawrence and to the Gulf of Mexico. People are talking about all the world statesmen in the same fashion. Calling them good fellows or squirts.

It is an interesting phenomenon when you come to think of it and confined now to a few democratic nations. It is interesting to see how little men talk about big men with a lofty air of condescension and patronage, how wood dealers and dairymen in Sidney will never hesitate to give a complete verdict on a British statesman who has spent a lifetime learning his trade.

The gentlemen from Sidney would hesitate to give an opinion on a plumber. They would never attempt to judge a bricklayer. They would speak with respect of a house painter. But they never doubt their ability to judge a statesman of world standing. They talk about a statesman as they would talk about a ditch digger, and in a fashion they would never apply to any skilled tradesman. The statesman is never regarded as a skilled worker. He is a mere casual laborer, an odd-job man without a trade union. And it gives us all a fine sense of superiority, a feeling of power and importance, to scoff at our betters. This is one of the blessings of the democracy which we should sorely miss if we ever lost it.

CORRECTION, PLEASE!

A MAN came all the way over from Vancouver yesterday, so far as I can make out, for the sole purpose of telling me I was wrong about meadow larks. He came out here and we listened to the song of the meadow larks together and he said I was entirely wrong in believing it was as fine a song as that of the English skylark. He said there was no comparison between them and I should retract. He seemed to think that my praise of the Canadian meadow lark had definitely driven a wedge between this country and Britain, and when I still persisted, he clinched the argument by announcing that the meadow lark wasn't a lark at all but a kind of blackbird. Solely in the interests of ornithology I agreed to print this horrid revelation, but I am hoping that some expert will deny it.

SWASTIKA

SOME GOOD PEOPLE are worried about the new fascist movement which has been launched in Quebec and which is to be organized here in British Columbia. They think it is the beginning of the end, that Canada is going fascist. The attitude of our governments is that you mustn't interfere with any organization which does not threaten to overthrow our institutions by violent means. This has a certain grim humor about it, since the fascists here, as in Italy and Germany, propose to take office, if they can, by the ballot, but after they are in, they will abolish it. They announce already that they will abolish all the opposition parties. They will abolish all those who are against them.

In other words, they will use the convenience of our present democratic processes to get in and then they will abolish the processes, using force, naturally, if they have to. And we must let them do this, it seems, because if we didn't, then we would be fascists. This is called democracy.
However, the point about fascism in Canada is that if the Canadian people have not got the sense, the courage and the experience to resist it, they deserve to suffer from it. If fascism succeeds here, then this country hasn't the brains to deserve anything better. What is really needed is a sense of humor about these things. If we haven't a sufficient sense of humor to laugh blue shirts, swastikas and aproned hands out of this country, if the rest of Canada pays any real attention to this nasty thing that is coming out of Quebec, then it is good enough for us.

Export Ruling Blow To Power Ring Plan To Kill Waterways

By NORMAN M. MACLEOD OTTAWA

THE export power controversy, over which Prime Minister W. L. Mackenzie-King and Premier Mitchell F. Hepburn have already staged several rounds of internecine strife, has taken on a new and dramatic aspect in the suggestion that President Franklin D. Roosevelt may intervene to prevent the suggested delivery of electrical energy by the power barons of Quebec province to the power ring of New York state.

The first intimation of Washington opposition to the deal which the American and Quebec power interests are trying to conclude under Mr. Hepburn's auspices came to Parliament Hill in the form of a dispatch from the New York Times Washington correspondent to the Montreal Gazette. The dispatch, which was sent as a sequel to a lengthy conference between the U.S. President and Frank P. Walsh, chairman of the New York State power authority, was carefully written so carefully written that experienced federal circles here accepted it as inspired by the Washington administration. Its concluding paragraph said:

"No physical connection may be made between Canadian and United States power plants with out the permission of this government."

The obvious inference suggested by the article as a whole is that "permission" will not be forthcoming, so far as the United States authorities are concerned.

THE conference between Chairman Walsh and President Roosevelt, with the resulting newspaper comment upon the meeting, is accepted in federal circles here as evidence that the Washington and New York authorities recognize the projected power deal for what Ottawa opinion has steadily considered it to be, namely, an attempt on the part of the New York State power ring through alliance with their Quebec corporatist cousins to prevent the development of public-owned power in the northern section of the United States.

The fear of the New York power ring is the development of the St. Lawrence seaway project, with the huge power supply which it will create. That power would become available for distribution to the New York State Power Authority, and would make that public body an organization similar in character and importance to the Hydro-Electric Power Commission of Ontario—and similarly destructive to the rate structure of the private companies. The private companies believe, however, that the United States Senate will never sanction the development of the St. Lawrence until the power it would create is actually required. Hence their urgent desire to conclude contracts with the Ontario Hydro and with the Quebec companies which will assure the northern states an adequate supply of power for many years to come.

President Roosevelt, apparently, agrees with the power companies' view that the St. Lawrence project will only be approved if the power which it will afford is needed. Hence the intimation of Washington interference with the cunningly-laid plans of the New York power ring.

THE Washington intimation is that the possibility of international friction inherent in any deal for power on anything but a frankly permanent basis is too great for any government to sanction it. Says the New York Times correspondent on this point:

"For the United States to expose itself to the danger of being suddenly cut off from Canadian power that is now or might be imported in the future is not good policy. The danger is further emphasized by the possibility that either Canada or the United States might eventually become engaged in a war, not of course, with each other, but individually, with some other nation or nations. Our neutrality laws or those of Canada might require a sudden stoppage of the power we have been importing from Canada."

If Washington policy frustrates the projected power deal between the American private companies and the Ontario hydro and the Quebec companies, the view on Parliament Hill is that the St. Lawrence scheme will be viewed as an issue for the two countries at an early date.

SHOULD KEEP CANADA NORDIC

To the Editor:—In a Gulf port, immigration officers seized a Caribbean steamer wherein was a secret compartment built into the vessel. It concealed seven aliens. Government instituted $7,000 fines against the ship; $1,000 was for each alien brought to port without the proper visa. Such smuggled aliens, usually non-Nordics, pay as a rule $500 to gain admission to a paradise created by Nordic brains. Once across the line they are comparatively safe, for we do not, as yet, register aliens. The difference between homeland wages and ours pays banking interest on about $20,000. If the newcomer goes into commercialized vice, he may retire to his native country, almost a prince in money power.

We Nordics fail to value properly this granted to an immigrant the right to become one of us. We have the moral right to scrutinize him, his family as to their eugenic worth. This is especially true because, while Nordics multiply slowly, East Europeans, Mediterraneans breed like rabbits.

Your Dominion, like the United States, has the world's best living standards. Only by keeping our blood Nordic can we preserve these.

Social Agency Leaders Named

Council Elects 16 Directors at Second Annual Meeting

The Victoria Council of Social Agencies held its second annual meeting in Spencer's dining-room yesterday and elected 16 members to its executive and nine to represent it on the board of the Community Chest.

Officers will be chosen at the first meeting of the new executive.

The following were elected by acclamation to the board of directors of the council: F. E. Winslow, E. W. McMullen, Alderman S. H. Okell, H. B. Witter, George MacDonald, Dr. H. M. Cassidy, A. H. Hundleby, H. T. Ravenhill, Father M. M. Sweeney, Miss Lyna Mess, Miss Helen Kirkwood, Mrs. R. R. Taylor, Mrs. J. W. Gibson, Mrs. F. V. Longstaff, G. D. Howell and Mrs. Kenneth Barr.

Those elected to the community chest board were Mr. Winslow, Mr. McMullen, J. O. Cameron, Mr. MacDonald, Brig. Gen. J. G. Austin, Miss Frances Fitzgibbon, Mrs. Taylor, Mrs. H. M. Cassidy and W. Hobart Molson.

Mr. Winslow, in a brief presidential report, said that in the two years of its existence the council had accomplished at least the first steps towards promoting a unified social service system in Victoria.

He spoke of the part played in the welfare picture by both the public and private agencies, the latter filling in the gaps left between the services of the former and also being in a position to do more in the nature of experimental work.

WORK REVIEWED

Mrs. Kenneth Barr, in her report as secretary, said the council had established a common ground for the discussion of problems and a clearing house for ideas regarding community relationships.

She mentioned the formation of the Community Chest during the last year as a valuable move forward in the city's welfare work, and said the Council of Social Agencies was largely responsible for the success of the chest campaign by giving the public a clear picture of the aims, methods and needs of the agencies.

Mrs. Barr's report mentioned the establishment of a Christmas bureau last year, and the formation of a committee to study vocational training of the young people in connection with unemployment. The committee, under the chairmanship of Magistrate Henry Hall, had made valuable recommendations.

A study was at present under way in connection with the problems of transient men and women.

Dr. C. W. Topping, associate professor of economics and sociology at the University of British Columbia, was guest speaker at the luncheon, taking "The Control of Crime" as his subject.

SEEKS TENANT FOR ELEVATOR

Alderman J. A. Worthington Urges Action to Secure Grain For Storage

Forecasting a bumper wheat crop on the prairies this year, Alderman John A. Worthington yesterday called on the industrial and trades development committee to start activity toward securing a tenant for the grain elevators at Ogden Point dock.

He brought the issue to the council's notice at the regular session, asking what the committee planned to do.

The present, he said, was the time for action.

Alderman Archie Willis told the council of negotiations which had been carried on last year with Harvey Kavaner.

"It looks like a lost hope," he said in reference to finding a tenant. Last year, he noted, no grain moved west and half the elevators in Vancouver had been empty. There was no one, he added, to whom the city could hand over the elevator.

Alderman Worthington suggested he would like to talk to members of the committee on the matter.

City Council Briefs

A memorandum regarding sewage conditions on Victoria's boundary, affected by effluent flowing in from Saanich, has been prepared and presented to the Provincial Secretary, a letter from Dr. H. E. Young informed the City Council yesterday.

Invitations to the council to attend the Portland Rose Festival, from June 8 to 11, were referred to the finance committee.

A letter from the Communist Party of Canada, suggesting proposals to alleviate the relief problem, was referred to the relief committee. The communication suggested establishment of unemployment insurance, new legislation to eliminate tax exemption on government and company property, and a revised taxation scheme which would afford relief to the home-owner.

The request of the Victoria Automobile Club for street corner rounding to reduce driving hazards was referred to the public works executive.

On the recommendation of the sanitary inspector, the Smith barns in the Fairfield estate will be demolished. Tenders for the work will be called shortly.

Action taken by the relief committee to house indigent infirm who are affected by the new hospital ruling, was outlined in a report from Alderman S. H. Okell, relief chairman.

The petition signed by 744 residents seeking reorganization which would divorce the pound department from the city parks superintendent's jurisdiction, was referred by the council to the parks committee. No suggestion given. Alderman James Adam Williams noted, as to which department the pound should be given. Alderman James Adam reported that while 236 dogs had been destroyed last year, not all had been taken from the parks. Some had been killed at the request of their owners.

The appointment of J. H. Ozard to the permanent staff in the collector's department was ratified.

Tenders for $802.48 worth of equipment required for waterworks repairs were approved by the council, which also accepted a tender of G. A. Weir to supply 50 cedar poles for $280.

An offer of $100 for a wagon and certain harness, recommended by the public works committee, was accepted.

The council approved the fire wardens' tentative agreement with Oak Bay to share rental costs of nine borderline hydrants and to maintain temporary protection for Oak Bay on a day-to-day basis until the Oak Bay department was in operation. The resignation of Wilf Hulme from the department was received with regret and a message of thanks for his services ordered sent to him.

On the recommendation of the lands committee, one permit for a billboard, on the corner of Belleville and Douglas Streets, was revoked. Alderman Burgess J. Gadsden asked permission to make inquiries from other cities and to bring in a report on their method of handling the billboard situation.

After approving a $326.59 expenditure on hose, the council clamped down on other votes for the parks department, delaying several purchases until after the estimates had been completed.

"Before we finish with the budget, we will have to go through the parks again and may cut $10,000 from the estimate," the mayor stated.

"It's cutting the cloth too fine. Some of that work should be done," Alderman James Adam commented.

Alderman S. H. Okell was named city delegate on the case committee of the Friendly Help Welfare Association.

Final passage was given the new building by-law and preliminary readings were accepted the "Water By-law, 1932 Amendment By-law (No. 5) 1938."

Tenders for painting the police station were referred to the police commission.

Sale of two properties, one at the corner of Balfour and Obed for $100 and another on the north side of Sunnyside, east of Selkirk, for $450, was authorized by the City Council yesterday on the recommendation of the lands committee. One previous sale was canceled, the purchaser having failed to meet the conditions stipulated by the city.

School Budget Action Delayed

Council Seeks Meeting With Board Thursday to Discuss Extraordinary Items

The City Council took further legal steps yesterday afternoon to delay its final consideration of the school board's extraordinary expenditure and made arrangements to seek a joint session with the trustees on their budget Thursday afternoon at 3.30.

The council received and noted two letters from the board, one inviting it to send delegates to a school session on Friday night, and the other expressing regret it would not have representatives at the meeting yesterday. The second communication stated the board was unable to agree with the ruling of the city solicitor and controller to the effect certain of the items in the ordinary budget called for extraordinary expenditure.

H. S. Pringle, city solicitor, informed the council yesterday was the last day on which it could deal with extraordinary expenditure matters as they affected the school board. Later, he said, the council could adopt the attitude of refusing those submitted and calling for new ones. Such a course would leave the way open for further consideration.

Subject to the approval of the solicitor on the legality of the action, Alderman Okell brought in a motion to that effect. It carried.

Just before adjournment, Mayor Andrew McEwen, who vacated the chair throughout the meeting, owing to temporary deafness from an ear infection, stated he would press the council to urge a reduction of $30,000 in the school budget.

As a token of appreciation for his services, Harry Thompson, retiring manager of the Britannia Branch, Canadian Legion Band, was presented with a smoking cabinet at a concert held in the club auditorium last Friday night. W. Chandler, president of the band, made the presentation. "An excellent concert program was presented with leading local artists contributing.

Adventures On Veldt Related

T. Norman, Ex-South African Policeman, Addresses Gyro Members

Interesting incidents during his 30 years in the service of the South African police were related by T. Norman, recent retired, to the members of the Gyro Club at their weekly luncheon at the Empress Hotel yesterday.

"The primitive and the civilized are probably closer together in Africa than anywhere else in the world," Mr. Norman declared. The speaker told how only three years ago the police quelled a small rebellion among the natives only 15 miles from the very modern city of Durban.

During the course of his reminiscent talk Mr. Norman told of the last diamond rush of which he himself had been a witness. The government had staked off an area of about two square miles divided into claims 40 feet square. After paying a small fee—5,000 miners and would be miners lined up behind a mile-long rope barrier. At the zero hour when the police had dropped the barrier, there was a mad scramble for the claims.

The speaker, who previously to his leaving South Africa had 75,000 Zulus under his jurisdiction, said the 600 whites in the same area were far more trouble than the natives. The lion Mr. Norman classified as a gentle rather than a ferocious beast, only becoming mean when annoyed. The buffalo was the fiercest of all South African animals.

Gives Program For Delinquency

Dr. C. W. Topping Tells Social Agency Council of Effects of Environment

A 10-point program with which to approach the increase of crime and delinquency in Canada was set before the Victoria Council of Social Agencies at its second annual meeting in Spencer's dining-room yesterday by Dr. C. W. Topping, associate professor of economics and sociology at the University of British Columbia.

Points in the program were:

1. Advice to parents by men and women trained in psychiatric problems so as to give children a fair start in life.

2. A return to the personal contact between pupil and teacher which used to exist in the little red schoolhouse.

3. Support of preventive and constructive programs by character building organizations such as the Y.M.C.A. and the Boy Scouts.

4. The development of friendship between school children and police officers.

5. Extension of the informal work of the juvenile courts.

6. Reform of the detention homes so as to separate children of seven, eight, nine and 10 years of age from hardened criminals in their teens.

7. A similar reform of the Boys' Industrial School.

8. Further study of the Borstal system.

9. A constructive program of education and vocational training in reformatories.

10. Penitentiary reform, backed by public opinion, to prevent prisoners from being schools of crime for first offenders.

CRIME IN CANADA

In Canada at present, said Dr. Topping, there were about as many persons in prison as there were in England, where the population was four times greater.

Between 1911 and 1933 minor crime in the Dominion had increased from 1,300 per 100,000 of population to 2,800, and major crime from 271 to 411 per 100,000.

Dr. Topping reviewed the results of the latest studies in delinquency first from the point of view of the heredity of the delinquent, and then from that of his environment.

Physical handicaps for which the delinquent sought compensation, moral deficiency, low intelligence and aptitude for crime by training from other criminals were among the causes to be found in the delinquent himself.

For a graphic picture of the effects of environment he took the case of Vancouver.

In the central school district, centring around Victoria Square, there was one delinquent to every five school children. In the West Point Grey area the figure was one in 2,000.

In surveys in the United States it had been found that upward of 85 per cent of all juvenile delinquents came from homes in the lowest income brackets.

A vote of thanks to Dr. Topping was moved by Dr. H. M. Cassidy.

AFRICAN TRIP IS DESCRIBED

U.S. Consul Tells of Little Known West Coast to Overseas Club

Reed Paige Clark, U.S. consul in Victoria, took members of the Overseas Club on an imaginary trip down the West Coast of Africa, at Spencer's dining-room yesterday afternoon.

From Tangier to Cape Agoullas, a voyage of 7,000 miles, the coast was rather an uninteresting line of dull green mangroves with an occasional hill to break the monotony. The sea was calm, so calm, Mr. Clark said, that a ship which had broken its back on a reef off Sierra Leone was being used as a lighthouse.

"A white man can live anywhere as long as he takes care of himself," the consul declared. "As a matter of fact, a white man does better in Africa than a black man."

"I would like to go back to Africa. I can't imagine a better place for a visit. It's not the heat that gets you. Never while I was in the tropics did the temperature go above 100 degrees. It's the continued heat. In Liberia the mercury was between 83 and 95 degrees."

Mr. Clark said he had been repeatedly in the Canary Islands, which were popular as a winter resort. Dakar, which aped Paris unsuccessfully, was a Senegalese town. The Senegalese were the blackest of the negroes. In fact, they were so black they were blue.

"You know the blackest negro is not the purest negro," he said. "The Senegalese have between 13 and 20 per cent non-negro blood."

Gambia, the oldest British colony in Africa, was famous for its peanuts and its Sahara winds. Freetown in Sierra Leone was a survival of one of the three attempts to colonize free negroes in West Africa.

Liberia was another attempt. Aside from the ruling class who spoke English, there were 50 completely different native languages in Liberia's 40,000 square miles.

There were no good harbors in West Africa, which was one reason why it took so long to explore. Mr. Clark said that the vast area of the Belgian Congo, over 1,000,000 square miles, did not touch the sea. It only reached a river mouth.

The diamond port in old German Southwest Africa was the most desolate place he had ever been in, the consul said. There was only one tree in the town, and not another blade of vegetation.

T. H. Laundry was chairman.

The monthly meeting of the Greater Victoria Retail Druggists' Association was held Sunday evening in the lecture room of the new dairy of the Western Creamery Ltd. on Yates Street.

E. Trimble spoke on "Milk Pasteurization," after which the various operations were shown in the plant. The regular business meeting followed, during which Charles Burr was elected president, taking the place of J. Macfarlane, who recently retired.

QUAINT NAMES ARE APPROVED

Junior Chamber Likes Idea of Expanding Old-Country Touches in Victoria

In view of the large amount of publicity-Victoria had received lately in newspapers in other cities regarding its efforts to have the more quaint name of "petrol" substituted in place of "gas" to correspond with the widely-advertised Old English atmosphere, members of the Victoria Junior Chamber of Commerce, at a general meeting last night, decided in favor of enlarging on that movement.

Communications with oil companies in the United States and Canada requesting their co-operation in changing the name of their product to fit in with the scheme had met with refusals with regrets, it was pointed out. But members were of the opinion that this could be accomplished by canvassing individual service stations.

The feeling of the meeting was that if a number of names, such as tram, cinema, lift, shop and others were used to replace the ordinary common names, it would do much to bear out the quaint customs of Victoria, which are becoming nationally known through extensive advertising campaigns as a "Little Bit of Old England."

Ed Glover thought it was a very good idea, noting that on a number of occasions last summer he encountered tourists who were quite frank in their statements that the old-English-atmosphere was woefully lacking. A committee will be struck by Ernest Harris, president, to aid the Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau in promoting the plan. Mr. Harris thought a set time for afternoon tea would be a good idea.

A strong delegation will be selected to interview the City Celebrations Committee to discuss the Junior Chamber's proposals for the planned August parades this year. The delegation will have full power to act on any decision handed down by the city committee.

The chamber went on record as giving its wholehearted support to the impending Gyro Club drive to gather funds for the erection of a sports arena in Victoria. The campaign is expected to get under way shortly.

Conway Parrott and B. A. Boste composed the team that won the first prize for securing the largest number of new members in the recent membership drive. They secured nine. Duncan McBride and Thomas Watkins were second and Joe McAllister and A. H. Hall were third.

A letter was read from Jack Fawcett of the St. Mary's Boy Scout troop offering that troop's co-operation in the coming clean-up and paint-up week conducted by the chamber.

The executive of Ward Four Liberal Association will hold a meeting Wednesday evening at 8 in Liberal headquarters.

A Merry Trio of Golfers at Reception

Mrs. Chas. E. Wilson (right), convener of the social committee of the Winter Golf Tournament, being played this week at the Colwood course, and Miss "Tommy" Wilson (left), were caught by the candid camera as they exchanged what was evidently a good story with Mr. C. Bruce Woodell of Seattle at the informal reception held at the Empress Hotel last night for participants in the tournament.

Reception for Golfers Gay Party

"Post-mortems" and Dancing At Empress Last Night

"Post-mortems," favorite topic of golfers at the 19th hole, were conducted in the convivial atmosphere of the Empress Hotel following the opening day of the Winter Golf Tournament yesterday, when visiting golfers and their friends were welcomed at a delightful get-together party.

Given by Mr. J. K. Hodges, manager of the Empress Hotel, and the local golfers, the informal reception was staged in the lower lounge at the hotel, in a springlike setting—enhanced by great bowls of Japanese plum blossom, daffodils and blue iris.

The guests, who numbered about 200, were received by Mr. and Mrs. Hodges, and by Mrs. Chas. E. Wilson, convener of the social committee, who represented the local golfers.

OF SPUN SUGAR

A striking focal point in the decorations was the display of two marvelously-made confections of spun sugar the artistic work of M. C. Anderg, head-chef of the hotel, and M. E. Goldi, the pastry chef. On a large brass tea tray had been placed a replica of a golf bag and clubs, leaning against a tree stump, while "golf balls" lay on the "green grass" below. Nearby was a large basket filled with petits fours, the handle of the basket being tied with ribbon and a bouquet of realistic narcissi.

The basket of petit fours will be awarded tonight to the winner of the indoor golf contest, which is to be staged in the lower lounge tonight.

Dancing was enjoyed in the Tudor grill, where supper was served from long buffets, attractively decorated with spring flowers and illuminated by tall green tapers in silver holders.

POST-MORTEMS

At the conclusion of the medal play at the Royal Colwood Golf and Country Club earlier in the day, the visiting golfers enjoyed the hospitality of the hostess club.

The spacious lounge and sun room at the Colwood clubhouse, beautifully decorated with great bowls of iris, tulips, daffodils and narcissi, hummed to the exchange of congratulations or condolences, as women players of high and low handicaps told of missed putts and "bad breaks."

The water hole saw the down-in-golf many hopes, as well as golf balls. One unfortunate player, according to local legend, deposited 14 balls in the water hazard before she decided to call it a day, but was still good sport enough to carry on for the rest of the round, despite the score hanging over her head.

TURNER-HIGGINS

A marriage service was performed quietly yesterday evening at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. Higgins, 315 St. Lawrence Street, when Rev. A. de B. Owen united in marriage their only daughter, Dora, and Mr. Charles Turner, younger son of Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Turner of 33 Regina Avenue.

Only members of the contracting families were present, and the ceremony was performed in the drawing-room, where the bride party stood under a white arch adorned with sprays of plum blossoms, the artistic handiwork of friends of the bride, Mrs. F. Webster, Miss Phyllis Roberts, Miss Beatrice Raeside and Mrs. E. A. Harvey.

The bride was given in marriage by her father, and was attended by the bride's brother, Mr. Brian Higgins supported the bridegroom.

Supper was served from a table centred with a handsomely decorated wedding cake surmounted with a silver vase filled with roses, while throughout the home a profusion of tulips, hyacinth, narcissi and plum blossom were effectively arranged.

The bride and bridegroom left on the midnight boat for Vancouver, and on their return from their honeymoon will make their home at 149 Superior Street.

Among the numerous wedding gifts received was a mahogany side table, the gift of the bridegroom's associates in the delivery department of David Spencer, Limited.

HIT SEWING CIRCLE

PORTLAND, Eng. (CP)—Rev. W. E. Guest, vicar of St. John's Church here, caused a little storm when he said certain people in the parish described the Ladies' Sewing Guild of the church as a "School for Scandal."

Orphanage To Hold Shower

The ladies' committee of the Protestant Orphans' Home met yesterday afternoon with the president, Mrs. F. V. Longstaff, in the chair, and the following members present: Mesdames W. Luney, E. M. Brown, Shepherd, Heddie, Dillabough, Dinsmore, Dorman, Coutts, Cox, Fraser, Elliott, Hughes, Templeman, Simpson, Calvert and Miss Newbury.

It was decided to hold the annual linen shower Thursday, May 5, when pillowcases and sheets will be appreciated.

Mrs. E. M. Brown will visit the home for the month of March.

Lupe Velez In Stage Success

BOSTON (AP)—Lupe Velez stopped the show last night as she made her first musical comedy appearance since 1932 in Cole Porter's new musical, "You Never Know," which began a two-week run at the Shubert Theatre here prior to its New York opening.

Displaying new talents as a comedienne, the Mexican actress won ovations for her singing and dancing opposite Clifton Webb.

All-steel farm buildings at low cost are now being produced, to be delivered unassembled to the farm.

QUICK RELIEF FROM A COLD

1. Treat it at the START
2. Treat it INTERNALLY
3. Don't Eat Too Much

When a cold strikes hit a cold quick and hit it hard with Dominion C.B.Q. Tablets—the remedy that is direct and internal; made for one purpose only—to curb colds, quick.

Dominion C.B.Q. Tablets go right to work internally in 3 distinct ways: (1) They fight the cold germs; (2) clear out the poisons; (3) check the fever. Usually they break up a cold in a few hours.

Dominion C.B.Q. Tablets are chocolate-coated... even children like their taste. When you ask for them (25¢ at all drug stores) insist on the genuine.

Chapter Names Conveners For Year

At the meeting of the Mary Croft Esquimalt Chapter, I.O.D.E., held yesterday afternoon at the residence of Mrs. E. V. Finland, Old Esquimalt Road, the regent, Mrs. G. P. Clarke, was named delegate to the provincial annual meeting.

Conveners of committees were appointed as follows: Child welfare, Mrs. G. Sisman; Girl Guides, Mrs. R. P. Matheson; Boy Scouts, Mrs. G. Pocock; Navy League, Mrs. J. Mason; graves, Mrs. J. Quinn; films, Mrs. F. Ryley; visiting, Mrs. G. Sedger; press, Mrs. Matheson and Mrs. H. Cresine.

Donations included $10 to the Naval Cadets in appreciation of merit in winning the rifle competition for the fourth consecutive year, and $3 towards the expenses of a guide attending the patrol leaders' camp.

Tentative plans were made for a rummage sale to be held early in May, Mrs. C. Bishop to be convener.

Mrs. G. Sedger reported on the 25th anniversary bridge tea recently held, which had been very successful, socially and financially. She, with her committee, received a vote of thanks.

A satisfactory financial report was given by Mrs. Warren Smith, treasurer.

The play held recently at Lampson Street School was reported on by the educational secretary, and a letter of congratulation will be sent to Mr. Creelman. Congratulations were accorded to Mrs. Harris as a member of the cast of the Beaux Arts play, which won the B.C. regional contest of the Dominion Drama Festival.

A new member, Mrs. E. Ismay, was welcomed. The members stood in silent sympathy with the family of Dean and Mrs. C. S. Quanton.

The members were entertained after the business meeting by their hostess. Tea was poured by Mrs. A. A. Warder and Mrs. C. Cross, the table centred with a bowl of mauve iris, daffodils and red tulips, flanked with green candles.

After nearly a year's absence in England, Mrs. H. P. Swan of Duncan has returned home, stopping off in Winnipeg to visit Mrs. A. S. Lauder for a few days. Mrs. Swan and her son Conrad left last April for England to attend the Coronation ceremonies and visit relatives, and while there was joined for his summer vacation by her elder son Peter, who is attending the University of Toronto.

Mrs. Douglas Emery of Regina, who will arrive in Victoria shortly to make her home, was the guest of honor at a surprise party given recently in the Saskatchewan city. On behalf of the guests, Mrs. Emery was presented with a silver cream and sugar set and tray, and a handsome purse.

Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Brown of Vancouver, after a short visit in Victoria, during which time they were guests at the Empress Hotel, will return this evening to their home on the mainland.

Mr. and Mrs. D. Barclay-Ross, University Hill, Vancouver, were hosts on Friday evening at a dinner party arranged in honor of the 23rd birthday of Mr. James (Jimmy) MacFarlane of Victoria.

Blue hyacinths, golden-yellow daffodils and mimosa emphasized the colors of the University and a heart-shaped birthday cake was encircled by lighted blue and gold candles. Covers were laid for eight. Mr. MacFarlane, who is exchange editor of the Ubyessey and a member of the class of Arts '39, left by the midnight boat for Victoria.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Nobbs, 910 Pandora Avenue, celebrated their golden wedding anniversary yesterday with an "at home," which was attended by many of their old friends. The venerable host and hostess received many beautiful flowers and other gifts, and a purse of gold was presented by the family. Tea was served from a table beautifully arranged in a gold and white color scheme, centred by a decorated wedding cake, which was cut by Mrs. Nobbs. Daffodils and other spring flowers were also used in decorating the reception rooms and the refreshment table. Assisting Mrs. Nobbs during the tea hour were her six daughters, Mrs. C. Smith, Mrs. R. A. Duncan, Mrs. E. Lerik, Mrs. E. Langthorpe, Mrs. F. Shaw and Mrs. D. Bentley, and also her daughter-in-law, Mrs. R. Nobbs. In the evening, a family reunion was held, dinner being served and games played later.

Finances Studied By Vancouverites
VANCOUVER (CP)—Investigation of methods used by cities and communities to "stabilize" their finances was being made here today by a committee of four Vancouver citizens.

They were appointed at a mass meeting here Sunday night which heard Dr. Lyle Telford, a leading figure in the British Columbia Co-operative Commonwealth Federation Party, speak on "the plight of Vancouver."

The group was instructed to discuss the matter with Dr. Telford and present recommendations at a later meeting.

Playing in Winter Golf Tourney

A bevy of women players participating in the Winter Golf Tournament were snapped by the Times cameraman at the Royal Colwood Golf course yesterday afternoon. They are: Back, left to right—Mrs. W. P. Bowden, Mrs. L. Papineau (Montreal), Mrs. C. W. Pangman and Mrs. W. G. Crawford; front, Mrs. H. A. Blakey, Miss Mary Thorne and Mrs. J. H. Richardson, all of Victoria.

Prairie Team To Make Debut

SASKATOON (CP)—Two young Saskatoon artists, Evelyn Eby and Reginald Bedford, as a two-piano team, will make their debut in Chicago, March 20. They are under contract with the Bertha Ott Concert Management.

Miss Eby and Mr. Bedford are Saskatchewan products, acquiring all their early training in music in Saskatoon. Brilliant as students and as piano soloists, they have won fame as interpreters of the classics as a piano duo.

The late Harold Samuel, Plunkett Greene, Olga Samoroff, Edwin Hughes and Percy Grainger have predicted a great future for the young players.

Most important step in their careers has been their long tuition under a brilliant teacher, Lyell Gustin, himself a piano master and a pupil of Jeannette Durno, famous Chicago teacher.

The inactive teaching periods of the summer months have been used by them for a general broadening of technique and experience by visiting New York, Chicago and European centres.

Miss Eby comes from pioneer western stock. She was born at Outlook, Sask. She obtained her A.T.C.M. when 13 and the special diploma from the Toronto Conservatory of Music the following year. That year she also was awarded the Jeannette Durno scholarship, and a few years later the Joseph Lhevinne scholarship.

The two years she entered the Class A competitions of the Saskatchewan Musical Festival she won easily.

Born in London, Ont., and coming to Saskatoon as a child, Mr. Bedford obtained the A.T.C.M. at 14 and won a Percy Grainger scholarship when 17. A Parisian critic, after hearing Mr. Bedford, wrote that his playing "suggested marble sculpture."

The Eby-Bedford duo will be heard in Winnipeg while en route to Chicago. Following their debut they will visit Toronto and may be heard in New York.

Man Who Financed "Pinafore" Dies

PEACEHAVEN, Sussex, Eng. (CP)—Edward H. Bayley, who made a fortune from the £1,000 ($5,000) he put up for the first production of "H.M.S. Pinafore," died Monday at the age of 96.

A members of Parliament for Sussex from 1892 to 1893, he was a friend of Sir William Gilbert and Sir Arthur Sullivan, creators of the immortal Gilbert and Sullivan operas.

AS MATERNITY AID
HULL, Eng. (CP)—Saying the wives of black-coated workers were the worst-off section of the community in regard to maternity services, Sir Comyns Berkeley, chairman of the Central Midwives' Board, opened a new maternity home to meet the needs of the "middle-class" people.

Bunny Ball Plans Are Forwarded

Plans for the Easter Monday Bunny Ball at the Empress Hotel were made at a meeting of the Junior W.A. of the Royal Jubilee Hospital, yesterday afternoon, at the Nurses' Home, the president, Mrs. Charles A. Watson, in the chair.

Mrs. A. C. Fitcher will act as general convener of the ball, and tickets will be in charge of Mrs. Alvin Gonnason; advertising, Miss Jean Campbell; ballroom, Mrs. C. L. Aylard, and prizes, Mrs. R. A. Wootton.

Miss McBride, social service worker at the hospital, reported nine home visits had been paid and 152 ward interviews had been attended to during the month. Clothing was supplied to three patients, transportation provided for six, one patient had been given and minor relief supplied to five cases.

It was announced that tickets for the annual fashion show luncheon to be held at the Empress Hotel on Wednesday, March 16, had been in great demand, over 500 reservations having been made.

In addition to the adult mannequins, children's fashions will be shown by Betty and Janet Denniston and Shirley Cameron. The auxiliary will assist the Senior W.A. on their tag day, April 2, Mrs. Harold Husband to act as convener of the tagging arrangements for the juniors.

NEW YORK (CP)—Beauty is invading New York's East Side. A free beauty clinic, sponsored by Neighborhood House, has been established for the woman who can't afford to pay.

Churchwoman On Platonic Friendship

LONDON—"It is certainly possible to be friends with a man and nothing more if you know the difference between flirting and comradeship," is the opinion of Miss J. M. Higson, of the Church of England Advisory Board. She was speaking to an audience of London business girls on the problems of the unmarried woman.

"There is no greater enrichment of life's experiences than friendships of this kind," Miss Higson went on.

"Times have changed greatly since the days when the term 'old maid' was applied to unmarried women to imply an object of ridicule, with its implication of a narrow, warped existence.

"But still, in some quarters, the existence of unmarried women may be regarded as a subject for pity," she added. "The term 'superfluous,' for example, is one which is only applied to unmarried women and never to married men.

"There is, of course, no greater career for a woman than marriage and children, and there is no career which has greater responsibilities.

"But there are an increasing number of women, as well as men, who do not desire marriage. And these women are making their own contribution, which is as necessary as the men's contribution, to the well-being of the race.

"There are some women, however, who have a longing for a home and children, but they will never admit it, believing such a desire to be somehow indelicate. Others pride themselves on their independence and on being able to fend for themselves.

"Some women, when faced with the spectre of loneliness, try to drown it with hard work; others turn to amusement or sport, where there are some who agreed to relationships outside marriage, with all the tragic unhappiness which result from them."

News of Clubwomen

The ladies' auxiliary to the Army and Navy Veterans will hold a court whist party on Thursday at 8 in the clubrooms. A St. Patrick's tea has been arranged for Wednesday, March 16, at the home of Mrs. F. Goodman, 1051 Princess Avenue.

The Erskine and Gorge Auxiliary to the W.M.S. of the Presbyterian Church of Canada. Mrs. Sanders presided and the meeting opened with the devotional period. Mrs. Boyd read the Missionary Gleanings from Korea. An address was given by Miss Lamont, field secretary of W.M.S., who presented the experiences of prairie groups of women as an inspiration to those in more favorable circumstances, also emphasizing the responsibilities as members of the Women's Missionary Society, with hints for larger membership. The meeting closed with prayer.

The members of the Metropolitan Chummy Club met at the home of Miss F. Bailey for their March meeting. Mrs. A. H. Adams, president, was in the chair. Miss Mae Lewis had charge of the devotional and took as her subject "The World's Day of Prayer." Mrs. A. Dowell arranged the social program. Miss Harper gave two piano solos and Miss Warren two whistling solos, accompanied by Mrs. E. C. Wilderspin. The speaker of the evening was Mr. Percy Wills, who gave an interesting talk on "Women of the West Coast." Dainty refreshments were served by the March group. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. A. I. Curtis, 1326 Vimy Avenue.

April will be filled with activity for the members of the Women's Guild of the St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church as a result of the monthly meeting held yesterday afternoon in the lecture room, with Mrs. C. W. Hawkins, president, in the chair. On Saturday, April 2, a home-cooking sale will be held under the convenship of Mrs. A. E. Featherstone, and on Wednesday, April 6, a rummage sale will take place in the lecture room of the church, with Mrs. W. Head as convener. An Easter silver tea has been arranged for April 23 in the lecture room. Arrangements for a tea plate shower to take place at the next meeting of the guild, on Monday, April 4, were made. Following the meeting, tea was served, the hostesses being Mrs. P. J. Campbell, Mrs. Marling and Mrs. M. Hodge. Mrs. J. L. White expressed thanks to the hostesses.

Modern Etiquette
By ROBERTA LEE

1. Should a man hand his coat to a woman to hold for him?

2. May a hostess invite persons, in whose home she has never been, to a bridge party?

3. Is the husband's or wife's named signed first on a note of thanks written by the wife?

4. Should a ring other than an engagement ring be worn on the engagement finger?

5. Should one ever "lose his temper" in a letter?

What would you do if—
You would like to become a member of a certain bridge club—
(a) Tell a member that you would like to belong, and hope that she will suggest your name?
(b) Make a broad hint to a member?
(c) Give a small bridge party and invite one or two of the club members?

Answers
1. Not unless he has rheumatism.
2. Yes. Someone has to make the first move toward friendship.
3. Only the writer's name is signed, but somewhere in the note the wife can include her husband. "Bob and I both appreciate..."
4. No, on the right hand.
5. No.

19-pound Baby Born Yesterday

DETROIT (AP)—A 19-pound baby boy, measuring 24 inches at birth yesterday, was the marvel of Detroit today.

Hospital attendants said babies have been born weighing 25 pounds, but none so large is on record in this vicinity. One physician refused to believe it. The mother, Mrs. Mary Lawler, is 36, and the father, John C. Lawler, is an unemployed auto factory worker. There are five other children, two to 17 years old.

Whales Follow

Indian Angler

Has Trying Experience With

Monsters While Fishing Off

Oak Bay.

An Indian, fishing off Oak Bay

recently, came in for a trying experience with killer whales for playmates. He was out angling for winter springs when suddenly a pair of killers appeared and took up positions on either side of the boat, refusing to depart.

To make the situation more precarious for the Indian, the pair of monsters every once in a while nudged up to the boat in the most affectionate manner and, friendly-like, bumped the craft around a little with their powerful tails.

Efforts to scare the killers away were of no avail and as things were getting a little too

warm for comfort the angler headed for shore with all the power he could muster in the oars. The pair followed him all the way.

The whales trailed him right to the shore and one of them went so far as to get itself stuck on the beach, but managed to wriggle back into the surf again.

Many anglers have noticed that the killer whale is becoming much bolder, especially this year and many an angler's heart has leaped into his throat as these

"playful" monsters dive under their boats. It was estimated that there were 15 whales in the school that toured the Oak Bay waters Sunday.

Man Who Sought "Break" Happy

Edward Griffith Writes Benefactor of Job He Has at Privateer Mine

Edward Griffith, 27, the unemployed man from Kenora, Ont., who prayed for a "break" after being rescued from drowning when he fell into the Inner Harbor several weeks ago, when trying to board the boat to Vancouver, is happily employed today at the Privateer Mine in the Zeballos goldfields.

N. R. Hill of Hill's Corner, who grubstaked Griffiths when he was convalescing in the Jubilee Hospital here, received a letter from Griffiths recently in which he said he was receiving steady employment in the island mining fields at $4.75 a day.

He is thoroughly satisfied with the results of his "break" so far and is enjoying his experience in the newest of Canada's gold fields. In his letter he described the general activity at Zeballos. He said he was one of 60 men employed at the mine about four miles from the beach. He said there was extensive building activity in the area at present as work was being rushed on the construction of extra quarters and supply houses to accommodate the growing community.

UNCERTAIN ON MOVIE COURSE

Central Films Head Receives Confirming Cable From British Board

Kenneth J. Bishop, president of Central Films Limited, this morning said he was still uncertain as to whether or not his company would continue making movie pictures in Victoria.

Under the new British quota regulations the company can no longer make pictures under contract to a United States producer, but the British market is still open to it through the exhibitor's quota clause.

To continue under the new set-up means the company would have to be capitalized locally. Mr. Bishop believes this might be difficult.

This morning he received a cable from the British Board of Trade confirming the present position of the Canadian movie industry.

The cable read: "Under new bill Canadian films count for exhibitor's quota, but not renter's quota."

The exhibitor's quota is the proportion of British pictures which the movie house must show during the season. The renter's quota is the proportion of British pictures which the foreign producing company must show along with its own products. Canadian films are now defined as British for the former classification, but not for the latter.

Question Power To Tax Machines

Doubt whether the City of Victoria and at least two other British Columbia municipalities have the right to license and tax pin-ball and slot machines was expressed at a meeting of the Esquimalt council last night by Reeve Alexander Lockley.

The council decided to refer to its solicitor for advice a motion by Councillor R. G. Humphreys for the legalizing and taxing of pin-ball, slot, vending and similar machines at the rate of $10 per machine per year.

"The question is whether we can legalize and tax something that is against the law," said the Reeve, who added he believed such machines were not legal under provincial statutes.

He was placed on probation for an additional five years, during which time he will not be allowed to deal in securities.

Broker Sent To Jail 18 Months

NEW YORK (AP)—Philip H. Philbin Jr., stock broker and big game hunter, was sentenced Monday to serve 18 months on a plea of guilty to a 16-count indictment charging conspiracy in connection with sales of Atlas Tack Corporation stock.

He was placed on probation for an additional five years, during which time he will not be allowed to deal in securities.

HIGHER TAXI FARES

VANCOUVER (CP)—A ten-cent increase in taxi fares in Vancouver, recommended by the civic traffic commission on application of taxi men, was approved Monday by the civic police and traffic committee. The new rate will bring taxi fares in Vancouver to 35 cents for the first half mile and 10 cents for each additional two-fifths of a mile.

Will Conduct

popular conductor who will conduct the Metropolitan United Church choir's production of "Judas Maccabaeus." This oratorio of Handel's will be given Friday night in the Metropolitan Church and will feature five well-known soloists.

Esquimalt Council Briefs

The Esquimalt Council last night decided to write to the municipal zoning board and ask for an explanation of its refusal to permit the erection of a coffee and sandwich stand on the property of the Gorge Hotel.

The finance committee was instructed to have the 1938 estimates ready for consideration at the next meeting of the council, March 21.

An application from the Gorge Golf Club to lease a portion of land between Colville Road and the golf course was granted.

The council decided a yellow line should be painted along the kerb on Esquimalt Road opposite the Half Way House to prevent parking of cars there. The action followed a complaint from the police commission that parking at this spot was dangerous.

Accounts totaling $11,868.20 for February were passed on submission by the finance committee.

Tenders will be called for the demolishing of a house at 1320 Liverpool Street, which has been condemned.

The council ordered the removal of a mass of brush growing at the side of Admirals Road near Juno Street because of the danger to traffic through the obstruction to vision.

Bennett Thanks House Members

OTTAWA (CP)—Regret that circumstances made it necessary for R. Hon. R. B. Bennett to announce his inability to continue as leader of the Conservative Party was expressed by Prime Minister King in the House of Commons Monday afternoon.

Mr. Bennett was applauded from all sides of the House when he rose to make a brief acknowledgment. He would leave his "valetudinary," Mr. Bennett said, for "another occasion."

Mr. King said he was confident he could speak for all members of the House in expressing sorrow that Mr. Bennett would have to relinquish the leadership.

The Prime Minister complimented Mr. Bennett on the work he had performed, and on his complete devotion to and conscientious performance of his duties as party leader. He hoped relief from these responsibilities would prolong Mr. Bennett's enjoyment of life and speedily restore him to health.

After speaking of the necessity of guarding his health, Mr. Bennett said:

"I would be less than human if I did not express my appreciation for the sentiments expressed by the right honorable gentleman." He had also received a letter from the Prime Minister yesterday.

"I thank all members for this manifestation of good will," Mr. Bennett concluded. "Perhaps if I had been expressed in more strenuous terms it might not be necessary now."

JANUARY FIRE LOSSES DOWN

January fire losses in Victoria this year were $42,898.80 lower than the losses for January of last year, according to statistics compiled in the fire chief's office.

The total loss in January this year was $4,917.50 and in January, 1937, it was $47,815.80. The 1937 figure included the $41,000 loss in the Post Office fire.

There were seven fires with loss among 30 calls received. Two calls were to Oak Bay. The insured loss was placed at $4,817.50 and the uninsured at $100.

AIRPORT LAND IS LICENSED

Land for the development of an airport by the Polaris-Taku Mining Company on the banks of the Tulsequah River, in northern Cassiar district, was set aside under license to the company by the provincial government today. It contains 45.80 acres, and the annual rental is fixed at $45.80 for the first five years, subject then to revision.

Three Effects Of Great Crash

Economic Aftermath of Depression Described By Prof. G. F. Drummond

An attempt to control prices and trade volume for national or other purposes, a growing national self-sufficiency and an effort on the part of the state to interfere with social and industrial life were the main general effects of the depression, Professor G. F. Drummond, of the department of economics at the University of British Columbia, told a meeting of the University Extension Association in the Junior High School last night.

"The Great War and the depression of 1929 have had more effect on the world than any other factors in the last 200 years," Prof. Drummond declared. Following the Great War there was an attempt to regain pre-war conditions. A widely-scattered and enormous international debt played a vital part in the resulting economic aftermath which finally led up to the historic crash of a decade later.

"The war saw the rise of the United States and Japan as creditors and the nations of Europe as debtors," the speaker said. "In Great Britain the ratio of unemployment rose to 17 per cent, the highest in the history of the country. The default of war debts was one of the main factors in the depression. With the crash the picture of international investment changed. If ever, war debts will never be paid under the same conditions as in the pre-depression era," Prof. Drummond declared.

MONEY CONTROL

The depression saw the United States stop extensive international investment, the upset of currencies, the creation of devices to control monetary systems and open market operations. The upset of international trade was an essential feature of the scene. A new type of credit control resulted in a greater proximity between the government and the banks. "Every country interfered consciously with the price level," the speaker declared.

"A system of 'guild capitalism' resulted in Germany, where state credits went to munitions, representing a definite interference with economic individualism. In the United States the government attempted to raise the price of commodities by subsidy and to redistribute income by a process of taxation.

During the depression there was a tendency to produce more gold, the result of a drastic and deliberate rise in price. The stimulation in gold production took place all over the world.

With her great gold reserves, Russia benefited greatly, commanding enormous international purchasing

ALTHOUGH tradition over shadows any attempt that has ever been made toward substitution in English rugby, the matter is still a debatable one, with many arguments in its favor. Saturday's game between the J.B.A.A. and the Vancouver Rowing Club brought the question again to mind when three of the visiting players made trips to the hospital with serious and painful injuries, leaving their squad short-handed. Blame for the accidents can be laid on nothing more than a stroke of bad luck.

And regardless of the fact that the Bays had the match well in hand before the mishaps, the game would have been a much better one from a spectator's point of view if Vancouver could have thrown reserve players into the battle.

Orchids should certainly go to the younger members of the J.B.A.A. serum. Doug Bray, clever young hook; Frank Doherty, the other half of the "Fighting Dohertys," and carrot-topped Tommy Dalzell, had a grand time all afternoon seeing who could keep the closest on the ball. Together with Jack Rutman, Gordy Pettit and a few more of the veterans, the Bays have built one of the finest forward packs seen in action here in many years.

Saturday's game was certainly the toughest of the season. When there is a trophy at stake it is surprising how the tackling improves. The local oarsmen missed few such opportunities and when they hit those Rowing Club men they stayed hit. In fact, some half-dozen times out were taken to revive the fallen mainlanders.

According to a barber-shop chat with a former Old Country rugby player, former referee and still an ardent fan, Jackie Ferguson, J.B.A.A. fullback, is in a class by himself. The curly-headed Ferguson boots 'em with either foot and his accuracy and distance run hand in hand.

Denver Safeways have come and gone. The United States basketball champions made their visit here short as possible and are en route home with the Jacob France Trophy still in their possession. Victoria's Dominos went down in two straight, but they have nothing to worry about. Their showing was a creditable one. When one stops and thinks that a team selected from a town of 39,000 goes up against an outfit recruited from the whole United States with its 130,000,000, it must be admitted the Dominos did very well.

That second game Saturday night was one of the toughest the writer has ever witnessed. The Victoria boys went on to the floor determined the score would be closer than in the first engagement and they accomplished their ambition. If Denver had had only six players to call on we feel the Dominos would have scored a victory. The Denver coach was content to use his second string in the second half of Friday's game, but he took no such chance Saturday night. The going was too tough.

Dominos will rest up until Thursday when they go into action in the annual Pacific Northwest tournament in Seattle. The locals have been drawn against Moscow, Idaho, in their opening engagement. The Victoria team has been given a great build-up by the sponsors of the Sound City event and the local lads are confident of making as good a showing as last year when they reached the final, only to be beaten by Walla Walla.

Saanich Girls In Hockey Win

Playing on the North Saanich grounds yesterday afternoon in a May Tully Shield girls' grass hockey fixture the North Saanich eleven defeated the Victoria High School team by 2 to 0.

The series is now between Oak Bay and North Saanich, who will battle it out on the Fernwood Road grounds on Friday.

Announces $1,500,000 Building Program Despite Cancellation Rumors

TOKYO—The organizing committee for the 1940 Olympic Games have answered War Minister Hajime Sugiyama's recommendation the games be canceled by announcing Tuesday a 5,000,000 yen ($1,500,000) building program.

The war minister told a diet committee studying the government's national mobilization bill that the Games, scheduled to be held in Tokyo, should be canceled if the war in China continues. He was joined by Admiral Nobumasa Suetsugu, Home Minister.

But an authoritative source said the Olympic organizing committee "paid no attention" to his remarks.

The president of the committee, Prince Iyesato Tokugawa, disclosed the huge building program provided for construction of an "Olympic Village" for housing athletes, as well as a swimming arena to accommodate 30,000 spectators, football field, bicycle course, auditorium for indoor games and a new main stadium.

The committee recalled the government's promise to appropriate 4,900,000 yen ($1,400,000) for construction purposes.

However, the committee directors said that, if the government subsidies were refused, the committee might find means of its own to finance the games. The government has no power to prevent the games, it was said.

LONDON—The meeting of the International Olympic Committee at Cairo Thursday took on fresh importance today as European reaction to developments in Tokyo indicated the subject could not be sidetracked.

British Olympic officials, who have gone on record as being opposed to holding the Games at Tokyo in 1940, prepared to lead the fight for a change of site on the basis of yesterday's indications Japan might not be prepared to act as host nation.

War Minister Sugiyama gave the first sign that there may be a hitch in Japan's proceedings when he announced soldiers on the active list would be forbidden to take part in the Games and added he believed the Games should be canceled unless the conflict in China ended.

Lord Aberdare, British delegate to the I.O.C. commented:

"The fact that Japan herself is wondering whether she will be able to hold the Games makes the I.O.C.'s position difficult. Just the same it is Japan's privilege to keep the Games if she wants them."

The Navy senior B ruggers will continue their bid for British Columbia divisional honors on Saturday when they battle the West Vancouver Barbarians in the provincial final at Macdonald Park for the Province Cup.

The play-off match will head a Saturday afternoon double bill, including a fixture in the intermediate loop, for the championship Heyland Cup on the lower field at the enclosure. The latter will see Oak Bay Wanderers and Victoria College fifteens clash.

K. Symons will handle the headline match and Benny McMillan will officiate on the lower pitch. Both matches will start at 3.

The Cowichan Cup knockout competition will get under way next week with the J.B.A.A., Canadian Scottish, Oak Bay Wanderers and the United Services taking part. The opening round will see the Bays take on the United Service fifteen and the Wanderers meet the Scottish.

At yesterday's meeting of the Rugby Union, Jack Rowland, Jack Rutman and C. E. Ley were named by Major Stuart Robertson, Union head, as a committee to revise playing conditions in local senior competition next season.

Paul Brothers Capture Bouts
BRISTOL, England—They turned the punching Pauls from Canada loose in a Bristol ring last night. Result: Two more victories for the most noted brother act in British boxing.

Danny Paul won a 10-round decision over Bill Wainwright of Birmingham, but Paeky Paul worked just half that time, scoring a five-round knockout over Len Mundel, Bristol.

GOOD CATCHES IN COWICHAN

Limit Baskets of Rainbow Trout Secured in Up-island River

Anglers who invaded the upper reaches of the Cowichan River over the week-end found lots of rainbow rising in the big pool and quite a number brought back limit baskets of fish in fine condition. The daily limit catch per person in the Cowichan is 10 and elsewhere, 15.

Haggard flies held the most appeal. The trout weighed from three-quarters to one and a quarter pounds.

Capt. W. E. Tapley did exceedingly well over Saturday and Sunday, reeling in his limit each day. Roger Monteith, Arthur Pitts, Dennis Hagar, F. Morse and Jim Cameron were among the others securing limits or close to it.

Shawnigan Lake started showing some promise late last week, with Jack King securing his limit on Thursday. Joe Jewkes did well in that locality on Saturday.

George Fox landed some nice fish at Dougan's Lake over the week-end. Joe Hancock and Dale Johnson also had some luck there.

Some fine winter springs are being offered off Oak Bay, with white plugs, No. six and five-and-a-half silver and brass wonder spoons being good lures. Elbeck Wilson hooked a 13-pounder last week.

LOCAL CUEMEN WIN SNOOKER

Woods and Spaven Defeat Nanaimo Team Four Matches to Two

Defeating the up-islanders four matches to two at the Metropolis Billiard Parlors last night, Tommy Woods and Walter Spaven, local snooker artists, made it two straight over Bill Jarvis and Bill Clarke, Nanaimo players.

Detailed scores follow:

Victoria 51-34, Victoria 55-15, Nanaimo 52-39, Nanaimo 47-30, Victoria 62-28, Victoria 51-43.

Prizes were presented by the Metropolis Billiard Parlor and the Nanaimo Billiard Parlor, sponsors of the intercity series. Plans are now under way for the Vancouver Island championship series with Port Alberni, Alberni, Courtenay, Comox, Cumberland and Nanaimo taking part in an up-island elimination round. Duncan and Victoria players will compete in the lower island preliminary play.

KING'S PLATE
TORONTO—Directors of the Ontario Jockey Club announced yesterday that the King's Plate, which will have its 79th running May 21 at Woodbine track here, would carry a purse value of $7,500 added, in increase of $500 over last year.

VICTORIA HIGH WINS
In an exhibition soccer game on the Fernwood Road grounds yesterday the Victoria High School junior eleven came through with a 2 to 0 victory over the Central Junior High School boys. Popham and Minis scored.

Out at the Colwood Golf Club yesterday the tenth annual Empress Hotel winter tournament got under way and the Times cameraman snapped the above players who are competitors in the men's division. In the top picture is seen a father and son combination from New Westminster, A. L. Lewis, the son, on the left, and L. A. Lewis. The latter was the first champion of the Seniors' Northwest Golf Association. At the left lower is Lee Stiel, low handicap star from Seattle, who is defending both the men's handicap and open titles. At the right is R. P. Baker, Vancouver.

Art Coulter and Babe Siebert Anxious to Resume Duty in Playoffs

Loss of a key man with play-offs just around the corner is enough to set any National League team away back on its heels. Plans built up through an entire season can explode under a main link breaks.

That's why New York Rangers were heartened today by the optimism Captain Art Coulter gave out from his hospital bed.

And it explains why Montreal Canadiens rejoiced in the word that Babe Siebert, voted most valuable man in the league last winter, might be back on their defence next week-end.

Junior Chamber Members See Fine Sport Offered at Forbidden Plateau

Members of the Victoria Junior Chamber of Commerce were taken on a tour of the Forbidden Plateau in its winter setting through the eye of the movie picture camera last night and were treated to glimpses of the fine-skiing slopes offered.

The pictures were shown by George Gurr to give members an idea of what the plateau has to offer the skiers who will gather there from Pacific Northwest points on March 19 and 20 to compete in Vancouver Island's first tournament.

The scenes showed skiers whizzing down the long slopes at varied speeds and others dodging and weaving their way down the tree-studded declines.

Bob Hopkins told the members that 25 expert skiers from Vancouver and other Pacific Coast points will be on hand, and expressed the hope that Vancouver Island could muster a contingent to provide some opposition for the outsiders. Twenty-one prizes and several championship trophies will be at stake in the meet.

Hopkins reported that there would be plenty of accommodation for island residents wishing to watch the big meet at Courtenay.

The Junior Chamber will arrange an expedition for members and their wives on that week-end.

War Admiral And Biscuit to Meet

BALTIMORE—War Admiral and Seabiscuit, last year's top money winners and champions, respectively, of the three-year-old and handicap divisions, who raced every headline horse except each other, topped a star-studded list of 59 thoroughbreds named yesterday for the $20,000 Dixie handicap May 11 at Pimlico.

Twice scheduled to meet last year, first Seabiscuit and then War Admiral dodged the issue, being scratched before going to the post.

Wallace McMillan and Mrs. M. H. Pearce Win Honors at Colwood

Medalist honors in the 18-hole qualifying rounds of the 10th annual Empress winter golf tournament at the Colwood Club yesterday went to Wallace McMillan and Mrs. M. H. Pearce, two Victorians, and both members of the Uplands Club. McMillan headed the men's contingent seeking the handicap championship and the Sir Edward Beatty Trophy with a net score of 68, while Mrs. Pearce led the women's brigade with a net 81.

With a total entry of 184, 118 men and the remainder women, the tournament got away to a flying start under ideal weather conditions. Scores were a bit on the high side, due mainly to the fast, tricky greens. Players had trouble on the carpets all day and as a result there were plenty of sixes on the majority of cards.

In the men's division scores of 76 or better were necessary to qualify for the championship with one 77 getting into the title flight. In the women's those with 91 or better gained the select group with one 92 being included. Sixteen Victorians and a like number of outsiders made up the championship flight in the men's with the 32 women qualifiers including only seven visitors.

WHOLEY HAS 72
Run-up for medalist honors in the men's event was Ralph Whaley, low handicapper from Seattle, with a net 69. Whaley breezed around the course in 72, just two strokes over par, for the best round of the day. He was out in 37 and back in 35. A. D. Desbriay, Vancouver, and J. R. Kingham tied for third in the medal with 70s.

Lee Stiel, Seattle, defending champion in both the handicap and open events, qualified for the former with a net 76. He was around in 73.

Mrs. Pearce, women's medalist, needed 106 strokes to complete her round, but was playing to a 27 handicap. Mrs. Alex. Watson, Oak Bay, and Mrs. J. H. Richardson, Colwood, tied for runner-up honors with net 82s. Best gross round of the women was a 92 turned in by Mrs. H. G. Mackenzie, Colwood.

On the East China Sea

Now we are on the East China Sea, again heading northward.

In the Hongkong harbor I saw hundreds and hundreds of Chinese boats—junks and sampans. A junk is a sailing vessel of a kind used by the Chinese for many centuries. It is fitted with large sails, and often serves as a cargo boat. Thousands of tons of goods are moved each day from port to port along the coast of China.

A Chinese junk.

Some junks are only 20 or 40 feet long. Others have a length of over 100 feet. A junk may be the home of one or more Chinese families, and people may live aboard it year in and year out, with their pigs and chickens.

Sampans are smaller boats, and are found in even greater numbers. They are propelled by oars and poles.

Sometimes a sampan has a kind of "cabin" near the stem, but most of those I have seen do not have a built-in cabin. Instead, they are fitted with a kind of rounded roof which can be set up or taken down at will. This covers about one-third of the boat.

When the sunshine is too bright, or when the rain is coming down, the family on the sampan creeps into the cabin or under the rounded roof. In summer and winter, in spring and autumn, the sampan is the home of the people who own it. There is no rent to pay, but they do not have what we call "the real comforts of home."

Just before we left the Hongkong harbor, a sampan came alongside our steamer. It contained four people—a man, a woman and two small boys. From a deck about 20 feet above the water, I tossed down a bar of chocolate and two oranges. These gifts were caught by the man, and were handed to his wife. She shared them with the children. A few other gifts were dropped by passengers.

Since we left Hongkong, the weather has been good most of the time, but right now the sea is rough. The portholes of our cabins are closed, and the waves have been splattering the glass with water. One of the ship's crew said we were going through "a half-gale." The waves are perhaps 15 or 20 feet high.

At noon today only about 20 passengers ate lunch. The rest are seasick, or afraid they will get that way if they eat anything. So far, on this world trip, I have not been seasick. Indeed, I have never suffered that way on any ocean voyage, or while crossing any sea. The only seasickness so far in my life came to me about 20 years ago while I was crossing Lake Michigan!

HOROSCOPE

"The stars incline, but do not compel."

Wednesday, March 8, 1938

Adverse aspects are active today, according to astrology. Extreme caution should be exercised in stock market deals and speculative ventures.

The stars seem to menace banks and bankers, as financial matters occupy public attention. Astrologers warn that bankruptcy threatens many nations, and that money must not be spent recklessly.

Merchants will profit through wholesale purchases made under national stress. For the average man thrift and economy are recommended.

News papers will present alarming rumors and foreign correspondents will gain fame, but unusual secrecy will be maintained in important sectors, despite journalistic energy.

Women are subject to baleful planetary influences. They should make no efforts in public service until the signs change.

Astrologers predict that the United States will introduce helpful labor legislation and that it will successfully arbitrate in the settlement of a "great dispute."

Gambling of every type will become widespread. The pursuit of pleasure will be more reckless than at any time since the World War, it is foretold. Those who study the philosophy of history know that these are portents of war or revolution.

Dorothy Dix's Letter Box

DEAR DOROTHY DIX—I am the mother of a daughter nearly 18 years old, who in a fit of temper was brazen enough to say that because I refuse to allow her to have boy friends until she is at least 19 that if she is an old maid it will be my fault. She also told me that because I will not allow her to attend parties and dances that I am spoiling her youth, and that I am old-fashioned because I will not let her use make-up and wear some of the silly clothes that are now on the market. She says that just as soon as she is 18, which will be in a few weeks, that she is going out and do all of these things, all of which I consider low and degrading. What is your remedy for a girl who is so worldly?

ELLEN'S MOTHER.

Answer—Well, your daughter lives in the world, doesn't she? And how are you going to keep her apart from it and prevent her from following its manners and customs and doing the things that other people do? You can't lock a girl up in solitary confinement until she is grown in order to keep her uncontaminated. If you did, you would do her the greatest harm you possibly could, for she would be totally unfitted to meet the problems of modern life. And you can't alter them to suit your notions.

The best protection that any mother can give her daughter is to make her wise to all the temptations from within and without that confront a girl, and teach her how to avoid them. The pits we fall into oftenest are the hidden ones, not those about which red lanterns have been erected.

I think that in the contention which has arisen between you and your daughter that you are altogether in the wrong; that Ellen asks no privileges that are unreasonable and to which she is not entitled. When she claims that a girl of 18, or even 17, for that matter, is old enough to have dates, she speaks no more than the truth. Times have changed since you were young. Everything has been speeded up. Even human nature. A girl of 18 now is just as mature and far more sophisticated, worldly wise and capable of taking care of herself than you and I were when we were 25.

Also, she is right in saying that if a girl is not permitted to go around when she is young her chances of marriage are jeopardized, and nothing but Lady Luck can save her from drifting into spinsterhood. There are several reasons for this. One is that it automatically isolates her. It takes her out of the class of boys and girls who play around together and who generally find their mates in the group. And when her mother finally decides that she is old enough to step out a little it is too late. Her crowd has married and settled down and the new group of youngsters won't have her. They regard her as an old maid.

Another reason is that unless a girl goes with boys while she is in her teens, she never learns the technique of how to handle them. She is either too shy or too eager, and both are fatal. Every mother should, of course, supervise her daughter's amusements and see that they are clean and wholesome, but to deprive a girl of 18 from going to parties and dances is nothing short of sheer inhuman cruelty. It is such a short time that our feet ache to dance; that we get a thrill out of a new ball gown that not all the money in this world could buy us later on, and when every callow youth looks a Fairy Prince, that it is a pity not to let our Ellens and our Sallies and our Sadies have their hour of joy unconfined when there is no carking care to spoil it, as there is in every pleasure later on.

As for make-up, what's the harm of a little paint and powder and lipstick? So many things are a matter of custom instead of principle. The painted woman used to be a hussy. Now she is everybody's mother, sister or wife, and rouge is no more immoral than eating ice cream. Neither is the length of a woman's skirts, for legs ceased to be scandalous when everybody showed them.

And don't forget this: The lure of forbidden fruit is in every woman's veins. The more you deny your daughter the liberties that other girls of her age have, the crazier she will be for pleasure and the farther she will go when she breaks away from your authority. Remember Eve. DOROTHY DIX.

Liquor Charges In Nova Scotia

HALIFAX (CP)—The Nova Scotia government was urged Monday night to investigate reports "a $1,000,000 liquor ring... immune from prosecution" existed in the province.

Continuing the debate on the Speech from the Throne in the Legislature, J. J. Cameron, Conservative, Queens, quoted "a certain Halifax newspaper, the Halifax Mail," as the source of the disclosure, which he said had been contained in "a reported interview with R.C.M.P. Colonel Vernon—I think that was his name...."

"That is a serious proposition."

LIONS CINCH

SECOND SPOT

Vancouver Defeats Seattle 4 to 3 in Coast Hockey League Clash

VANCOUVER — Vancouver Lions clinched second place in the standings of the Coast Hockey League last night as they withstood a closing rush by Seattle Sea Hawks to defeat the league-leaders 4 to 3.

League president Fred H. Taylor last night announced the best-of-three semi-final series between Vancouver and Portland would open here next Monday night.

The second game will be played at Portland Thursday, March 17. If a third game is necessary the date will be named later.

Dates for the best of five final series between Seattle Sea Hawks and the winner of the Vancouver-Portland series have not been set yet, Taylor said.

FINE CAST AT THE DOMINION

Edna May Oliver, Mary Astor and Robert Young in "Paradise For Three"

An enthusiastic audience at the Dominion Theatre today enjoyed "Paradise For Three." Nearly every poor man would like to enjoy the life of a millionaire for two weeks, and every rich man would like to go back to the simple pleasures—at least for the same time.

And that's just what Frank Morgan, Robert Young and Reginald Owen do in this escape of the Alps. Morgan turns poor while the other two actors become rich and powerful.

Their plan works until Morgan's daughter, Florence Rice, his housekeeper, Edna May Oliver, and his "girl friend," Mary Astor, find out about it.

RANGERS, CANADIENS

down the stretch were large head-aches to Rangers and Canadiens.

Coulter laughed last night over the ruptured blood vessel in his leg which threatened to keep him out the rest of the season—he said he'd be "ready for the playoffs." Siebert has been giving his twisted knee light workouts and hopes to play with the Habitués in Toronto Saturday.

SIGN REPLACEMENTS

But with playoffs just two weeks away neither club is taking a chance. Soon after Siebert was forced out Canadiens signed Armand Raymond from Montreal's amateur ranks, while Rangers moved quickly last night to guard against the possibility that Coulter might be lost for the season.

When Rangers play Toronto at New York tonight young LARRY MOLYNEUX, 200-pound defenceman from their Philadelphia farm, will be in the lineup. The big Newmarket, Ont., player has been in professional rank six years, but in trying to fill Coulter's shoes he gets his first big league chance.

Rangers can cut Boston's lead in the American division to two points, while a Ranger defeat will win for the Bruins over New York Americans at Boston would establish a six-point margin and practically decide the race for the first two positions. Toronto can clinch first place in the Canadian section by winning.

But the most important eventuality would be a victory for Americans. They would step into second place over Canadiens and, with one more game to play than their rivals, would be favored to hold on.

self from second to first place in the United States standing and into third in the combined ranking. His 20 goals and 19 assists put him two points up on Dillon, who has 20 and 17.

Art Coulter of Rangers, now out with a "charley horse," is still on top of the loop in penalties with 80 minutes.

OFFERED BOARD SEAT

NEW WESTMINSTER (CP)—Mayor F. J. Hume said today that he had been offered a position on the New Westminster harbor board, but believed he would refuse it rather than resign as the city's chief executive.

The vacancy on the board was caused by the recent death of C. A. Welsh, chairman.

OTTAWA (CP)—Charles H. Read of Amherst, N.S., has been appointed director of the Canadian National Railways, succeeding Donald H. McDougall of Stellarton, N.S., who resigned owing to continued ill-health.

One More Lift Will Float Beulah Again

Yesterday's Attempt Successful; Ship Moved After Coming Up Nine Feet

First-class salvage brains and expert workmanship triumphed yesterday over the temperamental little motorship Beulah, which had defied all attempts at salvage since she sank alongside the Ogden Point piers a few days after Christmas, following her arrival, badly damaged, from sea.

The cranky ship, which nearly floated several times, only to sink again, commenced rising with the tide early yesterday afternoon. She came up slowly, but steadily, and by midnight her aft deck was above water. Early this morning she was towed to the natural basin near the land end of the breakwater and there beached.

There another lift will be given her tomorrow, if all goes well, W. G. Jordan, superintendent of operations for the Pacific Salvage Company, said this morning.

Then, if she comes up again, as expected, she will be pumped dry, while the tide is out and then taken alongside the dock to discharge the cargo that was remained in her holds, under water, for more than two months.

The Beulah has "proved" the Pacific Salvage Company, which has handled some pretty tough jobs during the last quarter century. But Mr. Jordan and his assistants were determined they would raise her if it was humanly possible. They worked out their plans carefully and patiently and then depended on the co-operation of the tide and Nature. The Salvage job is a tribute to their genius.

Thousands of people have seen the Beulah, and yesterday the breakwater was again lined when it became known another attempt was being made to raise her. The ship's Polynesian crew watched their ship coming to the surface and cheered when they saw her decks rise above the water.

Around the Docks

Word was received late yesterday afternoon ordering the cable ship Restorer to leave port as soon as possible for the south Pacific to effect cable repairs.

Since her return some weeks ago from Singapore and Manila the Restorer has been at the Yarrow plant in Esquimalt for extensive boiler repairs.

It is expected she will be ready to leave for sea tomorrow. She will go to Midway Island, southwest of the Hawaiian Islands, and will be away about five weeks.

Danish freighter Stjerneborg arrived alongside Ogden Point piers this morning to take Vancouver Island lumber for the United Kingdom.

Ss. Anglo Indian, from Halifax, is expected to reach port Saturday morning with eastern Canadian cargo for discharge here.

Ships about the Inner Harbor are commencing to put on their spring appearances in preparation for their summer activities.

Ss. Princess Kathleen is tied up alongside the Belleville Street docks and will go to drydock at Esquimalt before being placed again on the triangle service, relieving Ss. Princess Marguerite, which is now running opposite the Princess Charlott.

In the upper Inner Harbor two of the wharves are still on the slipway at the V.M.D. plant. Two more will go on at the end of the week and the final two towards the end of the month.

Workmen are preparing the government hydrographic survey steamer Wm. J. Stewart for sea. She is at the Government wharf, near the Johnson Street Bridge.

Ms. Hiye Maru, back in northwest waters for the first time since an attempt was made to bomb her in Seattle, January 20, reached Vancouver yesterday morning and Seattle this morning from Japanese ports. Watchmen patrolled her Vancouver dock and no one except officials were allowed aboard.

She carried six carloads of silk, Chinese peanut oil, general freight and 115 passengers, 61 of whom disembarked in Vancouver, most of them proceeding overland to eastern destinations.

It will probably be Friday night or early Saturday morning before Ss. Niagara arrives from Australia and New Zealand, via Suva and Honolulu.

James Macfarlane, local C.P.R. agent, was advised yesterday she reached Honolulu last Saturday morning and left at 3 that afternoon for Victoria. She is running a day behind schedule.

Saturday morning will also see the arrival from the Orient of Ss. Empress of Asia, which, last night at 8, was 1,897 miles out in the north Pacific.

WHEAT MOVES UP ONE CENT

WINNIPEG (CP)—Winnipeg wheat futures closed higher today for the first time in about a week with prices 1 to 1/2 cent above yesterday's close.

Export buying of more than 200,000 bushels featured the quiet session as May wheat future finished at $1.22, July $1.14 1/2 and October 94 1/2 cents.

Erratic fluctuations which spotted the first hour's trading turned to a steady upward trend as liquidation ceased and offerings became scarce on export demand.

Chicago's rise materially aided the swing. Liverpool closed 1/4 to 1/2 lower owing to small demand for cash grain. Buenos Aires at noon was unchanged.

Moderate cash wheat demand continued and spreads on Nos. 1 and 2 Northern advanced 1/2 cent to 16, and 9 cents premium over the May future.

Coarse grains leaned to the upside in late stages after an irregular session.

Early Losses Are Replaced By Gains

NEW YORK (AP)—Failure of the stock exchange firm of Richard Whitney & Co. today put only a momentary dent in the market and early losses running to three points were reduced or replaced with gains at the close.

The list, down from the opening, suffered a further relapse when it was announced the Whitney firm had been suspended by the exchange governors for insolvency.

Volume picked up a bit on the morning sell-off, but offerings soon dried up and a slow recovery got under way which generally carried through to the finish.

Transfers were in the neighborhood of 700,000 shares.

Canadian issues were under moderate pressure. International Nickel lost more than a point, followed closely by McIntyre, Porcupine, Lake Shore, Hiram Walker and Distillers.

Extended pressure against secondary railroad issues caused widespread losses in the bond market.

Prominent corporate losers included Atlantic Coast Lines first 4s, Baltimore and Ohio refunding 6s of 1935, first 5s of 1948 and 4s of 1948. Chicago and Eastern Illinois 5s, certificates, were more than 2 lower, and New York Central 3 1/2s of 1952 lost nearly 3.

Foreign bonds were mostly lower.

Down Jones averages closed today as follows:
Thirty Industrials—125.33, off 0.05.
Twenty rails—27.55, off 0.50.
Twenty utilities—19.00, off 0.11.
Forty bonds—89.53, off 0.53.

Small Losses General Today

MONTREAL (CP)—General losses spread through listings of Montreal Stock Exchange today though the declines were mostly less than a point at the close.

Smelters and Noranda finished off small fractions while International Nickel gained a small fraction.

Howard Smith and St. Lawrence preferred lost almost a point each. There were smaller recessions for Bathurst, Price Brothers and St. Lawrence Corporation common and preferred.

Canadian Pacific, Canadian Car and National Steel Car lost fractions. Cement and Dominion Bridge lost ground.

NEW YORK—Bond market prices were mainly on the off-side today.

U.S. Governments were slightly more active and declines ranged from 1-3/32 to 5-3/32nds. Treasury 2 1/2s of 1960 showed the maximum decline.

A sharp run-up in two issues of Czechoslovakian bonds featured the foreign division. The issue of 1951 were 4 higher and the 8s of 1952 up 3 1/2.
